Chicago—10-14-1.
Detroit—6-11-3.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 10.—Rain
was falling when the first game of the world's series was called today.
Not a downpour, but a dreary drizzle.
It kept the crowd away so that they didn't encroach on the players, although all the seats were filled.

The Cubs got a vociferous greeting,
but when the Tigers came the volume of noise redoubled. Rain fell steadily during the game and the play was delayed from time to time as the ground keepers scattered sawdust
about the bases and pitcher's box.

Crowds Come Early.
Great crowds stormed the gates of Bennett park before the time for calling the game. Accommodations provided by the park seemed inadequate for the crowd need the park. By 11 o'clock 10,000 people were in the seats.

Murphy and Nevin, owners of the clubs, met this morning. Murphy offered to waive the rule which would keep Bush out of the game if the national commission would agree.

There are many Chicago fans in the crowds about the gates. Jennings took the team to the park this morning for an early workout. All are in good shape.

The national commission met at 11 o'clock. American league rules will apply today and the umpires will be Sheridan of the American, and O'Day of the National. The commission, after a secret meeting, decided they could not modify the rules allowing Shortstop Bush to play. The authority of the umpires was made absolute and beyond reach of appeal.

Tigers Score in First

Chicago—The crowd roared at the call of the first strike on Schaefer,
but groaned when his smash to right
for a double. Evers, trying to sacrifice a double. Evers, in trying to sacrifice to Rossman. Chance was passed and stole second. Steinfeldt lifted an easy fly to Crawford. No runs.

Second Inning Blank.

Chicago—Hofman out, Downs to Rossman. Sam Crawford made a marvelous one-hand catch of Tinker's drive. Kling was passed. Reul-bach forced Kling, O'Leary to Downs. No runs.

DETROIT—Rain was falling while the Tigers went to bat in their half.
Rossman grounded to Tinker, and as caught out at first. Schaefer lined to Holman. Schmidt out, Reulbach to Chance. No runs.

Chicago Scores Four in Third Chicago—Rain was still pouring steadily. Schaefer doubled over Evers bunted safely; Schulte singled to right, scoring Schaefer. Chance rolled to Killian whose toss to Schaefer retired Evers. Steinfeldt hit safely to left. Schulte scored. Steinfeldt took second on the throw in.

Parkway Races Today of Exciting Order, With Usual Number of Serious Accidents

MOTOR PARK WAY, Long Island,
N. Y., Oct. 10.—Preliminary races to the Vanderbilt cup race, which will be run Oct. 24 are being raced today over the Vanderbilt cup courses here. Thirty-five cars started in the first of these races at 9 o'clock. Four races are carded for the morning.

First, Nassau sweepstakes, for stock cars selling under $1,000, distance 100 miles.

Second, Jericho sweepstakes, $2,- 000 cars, distance 150 miles.

Third, Garden City sweepstakes, distance 200 miles.

Fourth, Meadowbrook sweep-
stakes, distance 225 miles, and Motor Park Way sweepstakes, stock
cars selling over $4,000, 250 miles.

Fourth, Meadowbrook sweep-
stakes, distance 225 miles, and Motor Park Way sweepstakes, stock
cars selling over $4,000, 250 miles.

Lytle, Strang and Kirkpatrick, in the third lap of the Parkway sweepstakes, led in the order named, 71.1
miles in 65:06, 69:34, 70:55 respectively. The Stoddard, with Dayton Miller driving, went into the ditch in Plainview. Lamothe, the mechanic, was badly hurt. Miller escaped with severe bruises. The little Buick won the Nassau sweepstakes, covering four laps in 93:81
miles in 2 hours, 7 minutes and 50 seconds. Lytle went half the distance 117:30 miles in 107 minutes and 49 seconds. The Cameron car in the Nassau event got second in 2 hours 15 minutes and 55 seconds.

Chalmers a Winner.
The Chalmers of Detroit, driven by W. W. Burns, was the winner of the Jericho sweepstakes, in 3 hours, 2 minutes and 36 seconds.

Isotta Gets $1,000 Purse.
Lytle in the Isotta captured the $1,000 purse in the Motor Parkway sweepstakes, the most important event of the day here. The time of the so-called 250 mile race, actually 234.6 miles, was 3 hours, 39 minutes and 10 seconds. The average time was about 65 miles an hour.

Car Wrecked in Race.
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 10.— A 200 mile road auto race was the chief feature of the closing day of Pounders' week. Sixteen cars were entered and started at 7 this morning. They raced over a 8 mile course at Fairmont Park. The car driven by Michener turned turtle and wrecked the machine. Michener, when the dust cleared, was standing by the car, lighting a cigarette, with blood trickling down his chin. The locomobile won the race in 4 hours,
2 minutes and 20 seconds. The Acme car was second.

AMERICA IS VULNERABLE

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Hiram Percy Maxim spoke before the American Chemical society here, sounding a warning to America on account of its unpreparedness for war. He said the American navy is the smallest in regard to the needs of the country of any country in the world.

REPEAT MARATHON RACE

LONDON, Oct. 10.—Forty runners began a second Marathon race today over the same course over which Hayes won the Olympic contest.
Percy Smallwood, the only American who entered the race, has arranged to show the English that long distance men could do better than in the Olympic contest.

TO PURSUE NIGHT RIDERS.

DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 10.—Fearing
the destruction of their cotton crops,
the Texas Farmers' Union today,
through President Neill went on record favoring the offering of rewards
by the state for the capture of the night riders who have recently been burning the cotton.

Declares in Stock Exchange Honesty

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Denouncing
the stock exchange as a vampire that sucks the blood out of the country's toilers, and declaring it to be a gambling den, E. F. Buchanan, organizer and manager of the failed A. O.
Brown firm, today gave an unusual interview. He says the wash sales campaign which drove the firm from the exchange are duplicated daily by brokers in good standing.

"I am glad the firm's failure puts me in a business where it is not a failure to be honest, or disaster to be human. Without the New York exchange, it is impossible for this country to have a panic. It is the medium of spreading the alarm from Maine to California.

"Men buying stocks on margins are simply gamblers. Commission brokers are merely lamb herders and the big men spread information about the properties they control to suit themselves. This is the only information the lambs get. The magnates never have real cause for worry as long as the public is industrious, because it is their own banks in which the History repeats.

For the second time in the space
of a year the gods of luck and science send the Detroit Tigers and Chicago Cubs into a world's series to battle for the greatest honors in the baseball world.

After an unparalleled season, the major proportion of which was fraught with the wildest possibilities, settling down to the last minute as the deciding of the pennant, through the defeat of the Sox, Jennings' nifty Tigers are supreme in the American and through the playing off of a tie with the New York Giants, something without precedent in major league annals, the Chicago Cubs are still peerless in the older organization.

And how the issue of the world's play is to be decided. The stage is set, every detail is fitting and millions of fans wild-eyed and nervous, fret under the tension awaiting the day which will name the winner.

Logically the Chicago Cubs, with HELP! HELP! GIMME YER CLOTHES!

Got any old clothes? Not much good, are they?

Got any old cots, beds, or bed clothing. Not much good, are they?
But they WILL BE a lot of good,
if you give them to the City Mission. Capt. Ivey wants them. He wants the clothes for people who will be cold this winter unless they get somebody's old clothes. He wants the cots and bed clothing to arrange a dormitory where a lot of people may sleep, people who will be without beds in the cold winter nights unless they sleep in somebody's old cots.

"We didn't have half enough old clothes last year," said Capt. Ivey today, "and I don't like the idea of decent but unfortunate people sleeping in a police station to keep from freezing, or going about the streets

with their marrows chilled because they can't bring themselves to sleep
in a jail."

EVERYBODY has some old clothes. No, they're not too old! Give them to Capt. Ivey; he'll make somebody comfortable with them. Drag out that old cot. Roll up some of that frayed and soiled bedding. Let's not be like the "leading citizen" of a certain city who declared at a board of trade banquet that the people do too little for the poor.

"Let's do something for our poor!" he cried. "Let's do it now!
Gentlemen, I propose that we give three cheers for the poor!"

Let us, here in La Crosse, amend that plan. Let's make our motto:
"Good cheer for the poor!"

Call 394-A, or 685-C, new phone, and tell Capt. Ivey what you want to give him!

She was so enthusiastic about the flight she witnessed that she desired to make a trip soon

Montenegro Declares Independence
Today—Austria Prepares to Repel Invasion

BELGRADE, Oct. 10.—Serbia today must either declare war against Austria or face a civil war; that is the situation here. Mobs of thousands are flocking into the cities from the rural sections. Today they surround the parliament building,
they royal palace and public buildings, and are threatening to pull the city to pieces unless war is declared against Austria. Repeated attacks have been made against the Austrian legation and a guard has been constantly about the building for two days. The situation today is graver than at any time since the proclamation was made annexing Bosnia and Herzegovina.

Austria Gets Ready.
VIENNA, Oct. 10.—Reports of war
preparations in Serbia are inflaming
the public here and is causing great irritation to the government. It is feared that King Peter of Serbia
may attempt an invasion of Bosnia.

Austria is taking every precaution against an unexpected attack on the part of King Peter's forces. Railroad bridges and tunnels along the Serbian frontier are now under a heavy guard. Should Serbia declare war
the Austrian government feels that with the nation's large and well trained army little difficulty should be encountered in gaining a complete victory over the Serbian forces.

Word has been received here that the Serbian reserves have been ordered to join the colors on Sunday next.

The Lie is Passed
LONDON, Oct. 10.—Foreign Minister of Russia Iswolsky gave the lie
direct to Foreign Minister Von Aer-enthal of Austria today, when he declared yesterday to the effect that Iswolsky was acquainted with Austria's annexation scheme long before it was promulgated. Aerenthal accused Iswolsky of conniving with Austria in withholding information from the powers, which if known earlier,
might have resulted in checkmating Austria's plan. Several St. Petersburg papers are particularly bitter in their condemnation of Iswolsky for the alleged lack of foresight in dealing with the crafty Aerenthal.

Montenegro Revolts.
VIENNA, Oct. 10.—Prince Nicholas of Montenegro has decided to declare his principality an independent kingdom, according to a dispatch received here today. He has already proclaimed that Austria's violation of the Berlin treaty has relieved him of all the provisions of the treaty.

FIGHT FOR PENNANTWORLD'S SERIES TODAY FINDS TEAMS READY

KILLIAN AND REULBACH PITCH

Immense Crowds Will See the Opening Game of the Last of Crucial Series

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 10.—The opening of the battle for the world's championship finds both the Detroit American league and the Chicago National league teams in excellent condition and filled with confidence. Every indication is that the opening of the series at Bennett park this afternoon will be under the most auspicious circumstances.

Baseball enthusiasm is intense in the city and baseball is practically the sole topic of conversation in hotels, theaters, cafes, street cars and all public places. Bennett park, the home of the Detroit team, is in perfect condition and indications are that it will be filled with a record-breaking crowd when play is called at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The Chicago National league team, sixteen men strong, in addition to President Murphy, Secretary Williams and a number of newspaper men, arrived from New York over the Michigan Central railway. They went immediately to their quarters at the Hotel Tullier. All of them except Captain-Manager Frank Chance are in perfect condition for the game. Captain Chance was struck in the throat by a rowdy while leaving the field after the game in New York and the blow injured a cartilage in his throat and affected his vocal cords so that he can barely speak above a whisper. While annoying, the injury will not prevent the Chicago leader from taking his place at first base. Immediately upon his arrival here, Captain Chance called in a throat specialist and his throat was under treatment during yesterday afternoon and evening. Pitchers Brown and Pfeister were also buffeted about in the attack of the Chicago players after the game, but did not receive hurts of any consequence.

Cubs in Good Shape. "The boys are in fine shape," said Captain Chance "and I feel confident that we can win another world's series from the Detroit Tigers. However, I am not looking for any such victory as we had last year. Detroit's team is too great to suffer such a defeat again. But we feel that we can beat them. Either Overall or Reulbach will open the series this afternoon, probably Reulbach if he warms up well.

President Charles W. Murphy of the Chicago club repeated Captain Chance's statement about the condition of the team. "We are in splendid form," he said, "and will open the series with every confidence." Manager Hugh Jennings had his American league champions of the field at Bennett park last yesterday morning giving them their final practice for the first of the games which means so much to them. He said that his entire team was in satisfactory shape. He said of Shortstop O'Leary, who has been out of the game for several weeks, that his injured thumb is well enough so that it will not trouble him specially. Catcher Schmidt has a bad finger, but it will not keep him out of the game.

"The pitching choice for today lies between Killian and Donovan," said Manager Jennings. "With the probabilities favoring Killian. We are going into the fight for the world's championship filled with confidence. Our last game with the Chicago American league team which gave us the championship of our league, showed me that I still have the gamest and greatest team in modern baseball."

STEIHM IN GAME
WITH LAWRENCE U.

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 10.—Ewald O. Steihm Wisconsin's strong football center who was conceded last year to be the equal of Michigan's Ermy Schult, was declared eligible yesterday afternoon, and will play in the game against Lawrence at Camp Randall today. The athletic council decided, after a long session, that his work in the summer law school was not regular, since it did not count toward his bachelor of art degree, and that he may play without taking another examination in the study in which he failed to pass.

Steihm is the fourth varsity player to be declared eligible within the last two weeks, and joy in the Badger camp knows no bounds. Messmer and Boyle, the old tackles, were placed on the eligible list last week, and Springer, former quarter, was given a clean record. The big center probably will not play the entire game, as he has not been in any scrimmage.

FANS SUBMIT TO GOVERNOR'S ORDERS

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 10.—Gov. J. O. Davidson's prohibition of boxing has caused great commotion in Milwaukee, where thousands of fight fans have been developed during the years since boxing was made a permissible sport. There will not, however, be any effort to evade the governor's orders. Boxing is dead in this city, and will remain dead. "Under the present circumstances," said Harlan Zee, who was managing the Panko-Kelly fight, "there is nothing to do but for our club to call the show off. It is not the wish of our club to break any laws, nor did we think we were doing so in staging this bout. The show would have been held as in times past, under strict police surveillance. We shall, of course, try to get an official ruling on the law, but until we do we cannot stage any more fights."

BRUSH WILL NOT GO TO THE COURTS

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—President Brush of the New York National league club emphatically stated that the matter of the alleged tie New York-Chicago game of September 22 will not be taken to the United States courts in the form of a request for an injunction prohibiting the Chicago club from playing the world's championship series with Detroit beginning today. "We are too good sports for that," said Mr. Brush. "We shall not contest the matter further. We believe the pennant is ours technically, there is no doubt about this. From a sportsmanship point of view it is inconceivable how any one can look at this matter otherwise. But so far as we are concerned, the matter will remain as it is. We fought to a finish and we stand on record as good sports."

"What's the matter, darling?"
"Oh, mamma! I think I've got a frog in my throat!"

THE OLD ARM CHAIR

Did you ever stop to consider why a rocker is comfortable or uncomfortable?It is due to the fact that a rocker must set at the proper angle in order to be comfortable, if it tilts too far forward or backward, as the case may be, the rocker will give little comfort.

THIS ROCKER

Is hung at the proper angle and is designed for solid comfort. It is made of the best grade of China Reed, over well seasoned hard wood frame. No split reed is used in its construction. Nothing but full sized reed being used. Made in La Crosse especially for us. A regular $5.00 value. Our very special low price only

The Laurel Heater

has double the radiation of any other heater on the market. Saves fuel, reduces the coal bills by half. Many other points of superiority and we can give you many other reasons why you should buy a Laurel Heater. At least come in and let us

"KONEY."

"Koney" closed his season with a final home run, arriving in the city from St. Louis yesterday.

"Koney" (Eddy Konetchy, the first sacker of the St. Louis Nationals) blew into the office with the air of a metropolitanite. He has the finish of a silver-spoon born gentleman, the breadth of a cosmopolitan, the bonhomie of a good fellow, the ease of an athlete.

Albert "Koney" lacked some of these graces when he left here two years ago, the "candy kid" of a minor league team, he has merely come into his own in attaining polish and ease of bearing. His native intellectual powers were apparent in the old days on the local diamond, when he was noted for
"heady" plays, and the "horse sense" recognition of which induced Manager McClosky to make this raw recruit captain of a major league team over the heads of a lot of old stagers is big enough and sound enough to make him the captain of something bigger than a ball team
when, a little older and a lot stiffer,
he graduates from the sporting world and settles down to commercial pursuits with a reserved seat in the grandstand.

"Koney" made good this year,
and more. He batted .245, notwithstanding a bad break at the finish. He made during the season, in 154 games, 37 extra-base hits,
as follows: 20 doubles, 12 triples, 5 home runs. His batting average is fourth, Barry beating him on an even footing, but the other men who head him played in but a few games.
His fielding average, .985, heads the list of the Cardinals.

"Koney" has a unique record as to his sporting activity. He has never missed a game since the day
he signed with the Pinks, four years ago. During that time he has played 523 games, filling every schedule
without an omission, as follows: La Crosse, 1905, 11 games; La Crosse,
1906, 125 games; La Crosse, 1907,
36 games; St. Louis, 1907, 91 games; St. Louis, 1908, 154 games.

That "Koney" is going to stay with the St. Louis club is due to two reasons: First, that the St. Louis management will not let him go;
second, that the management and the fans have treated him so royally
that he finds little allurements in other offers. Pittsburgh wanted him this summer badly. New York would like him. Even the Cubs' manager broached the subject of acquiring him. The Cubs need no new first-sacker, but Konetchy in his practice
at short last summer demonstrated that he could hold any infield position with success, and his hitting makes him valuable to the best club
in the business.

"Koney" will winter here. That is a source of satisfaction to his friends, especially since it had been announced by the New York Herald that he would join the Giants and hibernate in the metropolis. As to this story, Konetchy says it was all

"newspaper talk based on rumors growing out of negotiations that never came through." So he will be with us, and we are glad of that.
This young candy maker is destined to earn his share of the glory in a world "champ" team some day, and La Crosse is a good place in which to keep in condition and entertain one's friends. For "Koney" there is always a great "Welcome" sign over the gate of the Gateway City.

AN IDIOTIC EVASION.

Discovering that the Eau Claire Telegram is doubtful as to whether Gov. Davidson really said: "If the tariff plank adopted at Chicago is made into law, you and I will be sorry within two years," the Milwaukee Free Press hastens to say:

"The whole tenor of Gov. Davidson's speech contradicts any such impression. If he said it, he manifestly meant to say, 'The tariff plank adopted at Denver.' We don't know whether there was a 'slip' in his speech or whether he used the word
the context shows that he must have had in mind."

"Gov. Davidson, both at Madison, in his strong indorsement of the party's promise and of Taft's promise of a special session to revise the tariff, and in his public utterances
for tariff revision and tariff reduction, has left no possibility of doubt as to what he meant and what he means."

That the organ of "Uncle Ike"
should thus impose upon the good nature of the Eau Claire newspaper is not of much importance, its silly
and transparent attempt to explain away a fact affording the Telegram nothing more serious than a temptation to snicker. But for the Free Press, whose relations with the governor are such as to suggest his personal responsibility for what it says about him, to thus put James O. Davidson in a position of denying having said a thing that he was heard to say by a score of leading public men, is an outrage upon the chief executive of this great state. Be the sentiment right, or wrong, we do not anticipate for a moment that the governor will deny having expressed
it. The context of his speech is such as to make palpably dishonest
the idiotic attempt of the Milwaukee organ to apply the utterance to the Denver platform, which was in no way under discussion.

However, there is a plain way to show what the governor's stand was.
There was a tariff plank offered to the convention. It was the La Follette tariff plank. The records show that GOVERNOR DAVIDSON VOTED AGAINST IT.

The records also show that NO
OTHER TARIFF PLANK WAS IN-TRODUCTION. If the governor was for tariff revision, but opposed to the La Follette plank, WHY DID HE NOT INTRODUCE A TARIFF PLANK TO HIS OWN LIKE? He was a member of the platform convention. It was his right and his duty to offer any resolutions he believed should be put into the state platform. HE OFFERED NO TARIFF PLANK; HE VOTED AGAINST THE ONLY ONE THAT WAS OF-FERED. WHY?

Was it not because, as he told the convention, it was his conviction that
"if the tariff plank adopted at Chicago is made into law, you and I will be sorry for it within two years?"

WELLMAN'S LATEST FIND

Walter Wellman, republican journalist, cannot find solace anywhere.
Tired of New York with its "desire for a change," having ransacked the west with small success for signs of Taft sentiment, he sang, "Take me back to Baltimore," and lo! "Maryland, My Maryland," gives him no consolation. From Baltimore, with his accustomed frankness, Mr. Wellman writes:

"Maryland is a doubtful state, but the probabilities are she will give her eight votes in the electoral college to the democratic candidate. A month or more ago, shortly after the announcement of the old-time Democratic organ, the Baltimore Sun, that for the second time it would blot
the nomination of Bryan and give its support to the Republican candidate for President, it was generally believed Maryland would do as she did in 1896 and 1900 and register
her voice against Mr. Bryan. Subsequently there has been a slight change in the other direction, and now the chances are that Bryan will get the state by a slender margin, though this is by no means sure, and
the republicans have not lost hope."

"Although the business men of Baltimore are apparently as much opposed to Bryan and Bryanism as they ever were, and may be depended upon to use not only their influence but their votes against him, the probabilities are that with the labor tend to Bryan, the defection of a small percentage of the colored vote,
the uncertain attitude of the independents in the past have been almost solidly against Bryan. The Democrats will this year gain the state by a small margin. This is not conceded by the Republican chairman and campaign manager, who in all sincerity declares Taft will win.
The same claim is made by the Democratic leader. The latter appears to be the more confident and to have the greater number of facts in his favor."

TAFT AS A JUDGE MAKER.

"Mr. Taft's experience as a judge, his comprehensive knowledge of the law, his keen intellect, his progressiveness and fairness are instances
as fitting him in an especial way to conduct the selection of supreme court judges."—Chronicle.

Just so. Having fathered the "government by injunction," Judge
Taft would seem to need no other evidence to verify the accuracy of the opinion as to his qualifications for a creator of supreme judges, but the record furnishes facts to further sus-tain him. Two years ago he urged President Roosevelt to appoint Attorney Storey, a lawyer in the intimate councils of Standard Oil, to a federal judgeship. The president declined to do it, but that was not Judge Taft's fault. And so we may conclude with absolute certainty that Mr. Taft is excellently equipped to appoint supreme-court judges that would give entire satisfaction to Standard Oil.

QUIPS AND CRANKS
AND WANTON WILES

Bearding the Lion
Half hoping to be creditor
Unto a certain editor,

I sought his sactum high,
I've here, said I, "in manuscript,
A spicy story," and I slipped
It underneath his eye.
"What's it about," he turned his head.
"About a thousand words," I said.
It was a sorry quib.

The sheets he seized at me to fling.
But "spicy" I had called the thing.
And so he took a dip.
"Why, this is stuff about a bear,"
He growled—"there's nothing spicy
here."

Vamoose! Be on the run."
"Hold on!" said I; don't hasty be.
Spicy! Great Scott man, don't you see?"
The bear's a cinnamon!"

Clang! came upward from the street.
"I'll take his head, you take his feet."

Faintly I heard one say.

Taken Down

Gustave Eberlein, the famous German sculptor, said the other day in New York that in beauty of face and
all others—that the American type of beauty approached almost absolute perfection.

"In intelligence as well," the sculptor resumed, "the American woman excels. But now and then she has the defect of the intelligence—she is overpositive, she is overconfident. In that case I like to see her taken down."

"I once met a beautiful and brilliant American woman on shipboard.
She talked splendidly, but she was very positive—positive, indeed."
"I am a good reader of faces,"
she said one day at luncheon. "On first sight of a person I form my opinion of that person's character;
and I am never wrong. I am positively never wrong."

"Mother," her little boy called shrilly from the other end of the long table where he sat with his nurse.

"Well, what is it my son?" said
the mother indulgently.
"And we all turned to hear what the little fellow had to say."
"Mother," he piped, "I want to know what was your opinion, mother,
when you first saw me."—Washington Star.

A Change for the Better.

Miss Lillian B. Hill, an advertising expert, said at a clothiers' banquet in Grand Rapids:
"I am glad you clothiers now advertise, now print pictures of men's and boys' fashions. Thus you smarten up the country, and you help to abolish the cutting down of the father's clothes for the son. You have educated our little boys to dress, and few of them could bear to wear now their father's garments made over by their mothers' awkward hands. It was not always so. I remember how, in the distant past, my little brother rushed whispering into my room one night:

"Oh, dear," he whined, "pa's had his beard shaved off, and now I guess
I've got to wear the old red thing!"

At Atlantic City the other day a fisherman caught an octopus, a rare
fish in those waters.
The octopus, which resembled a frayed and ruined football of brown leather, was carried home by the fisherman in a bucket of water.

he said. "Why, I'm going to eat it.
I'd almost as soon eat octopus as

When the country faced the necessity of again choosing a president, in 1836, it again became necessary
to secure new timber, for President Jackson had completed two terms and the custom of no third term was already well established. But as had always been the custom where a second term president could have secured a third term had he desired, Jackson was the ruling guide and spirit in the naming of his successor.

Jackson's second term had been nearly as turbulent as his first. The chief matter of dispute continued to be the United States bank. The subject of rechartering this national institution came up during Jackson's second term and received the approval of congress, but when Jackson gave the bill his veto congress was unable to muster a two-thirds majority for its final passage over his head. The passage of the United States bank from the scene of financial operations gave rise to much financial wildcatting. Deposits which had been in the United States bank went now into other institutions, and as a result a vast amount of government money went into the practically unregulated west, where it was used to capitalize speculation which brought the country to a serious financial situation. Jackson's administration, however, had been an unqualified success as regards extension of foreign relations, notably with Great Britain concerning the West India trade and with France concerning the payment of claims amounting to $5,000,000 for depredations upon merican commerce during the Napoleonic wars. The eight years of Jackson's presidency had formed an era of tremendous industrial development, of social transition and of great political advantage marked by a continuous agitation and excitement of the public mind.

In view of the fact that the influence of Jackson's administrations on the country was probably unsurpassed by any of his predecessors, it was comparatively a simple matter for Jackson to dominate the national convention of the democratic party,
which met in an old Presbyterian church at Baltimore in June, 1835, nearly a year and a half before the election. Over five hundred delegates were present from twenty-three states, South Carolina, Alabama and Illinois alone not being represented.
It was at this convention that the rule requiring a two-thirds of the whole number of convention votes
for a nomination was adopted, although nearly half the convention
did not believe such a rule was in conformity with good democratic principles. Martin Van Buren was the choice of Jackson for the presidential nomination. Van Buren had serv-

the first remarked with a sneer: "So you are afraid you won't come back

ply, "I always take the return half

TREE LESSONS FROM THE OR-IENT

(Washington, D. C., Post.)
Scientific men speculate to the effect that the boundless desert of Sahara was once a garden supporting a mighty population, and doubtless the seat of what was then human civilization. There is authentic history for it that the region called Mesopotamia was the granary of the east and the center of human endeavor when Cyrus the Great was king, but it is now a desert waste, and oases and inhabit the ruins of Babylon because of the denudation of the forests of that once splendid country. Spain paid a bigger price for the havoc she wrought among the trees of the valley of the Guadalquivir than the Berber invasion and the Moorish domination cost her.

The nations of western Europe—
England, France and Germany—appear to have learned the lesson and profited by it. In those countries timber culture is as much a regular crop
as potatoes in Michigan, corn in Iowa, tobacco in Kentucky, or cotton in Mississippi, and in at least one of those countries it is the law of the land that for every tree felled another must be planted, and no tree is felled until it has attained to its zenith as a plant.

PHILADELPHIA ROASTS

(Philadelphia Inquirer.)
Philadelphia claims to be the most American of all cities. The claim is no idle boast. The cradle of liberty was rocked in Independence hall, and it has never ceased rocking. The city has been exposed to the foreign influences that have come in with immigration elsewhere—that is to say, not to the same extent. It has had its share of new blood from the old world, but the sturdy American sentiment that produced a new nation has never been engulfed. It maintains better than any other large community the spirit that makes for integrity and builds up true American homes. It is the home life that makes a nation strong, and Philadelphia honors its citizens in 307,647 separate dwellings.

HARDSHIPS OF HOTEL KEEPERS
(New York World.)

Sydney Smith said his idea of heaven was eating pate de foie gras to the sound of trumpets. The hotel epicure now finds an embarrassment
of such "heavens" from which to choose. The city hotel has grown to be a combined art gallery, music hall
and club casino, all the enjoyments
of which are to be had for the price of a dinner.

The latter day "mine host" is in a sense the curator of a museum, an impresario who must provide for the amusement of his patrons. It is no longer sufficient to furnish guests
with a well cooked meal and a comfortable bed. Their higher senses must be appealed to. No feature of the development of the palatial hotel
from the simple inn is more remarkable than its evolution on the aesthetic side.

THE TURN OF
THE TIDE
By Horace Annesley Vachell
(Copyrighted, 1908.)

The buck slipped back into harborage, the hawk spread a wider ring. Guy wondered whether man or woman would appear. Reeks of smoke rising above the trees indicated human habitations.

Suddenly he heard voices, a gay laugh, virile and youthful; and then its feminine echo, a silvery crescendo of joyous sound. A man and a girl carrying golf-clubs approached.
Guy perceived them before they saw him. With no surprise—so absolutely fitting, so pat to the moment
they were advent—he realized that if he had been given a free hand to place a couple of figures in this landscape, he could have found no better models, though he ranged the kingdom for them. The man was young and extraordinarily good-looking, using the word literally.
His large, luminous eyes, set far apart, shone with that unmistakable radiance so eloquent of high ideals and enthusiasm. His mouth, slightly upturned in its tender curves, seemed to be fashioned expressly to give utterance to words of good report;
the chin was strong and finely modelled, the brow ample. In a word—Galahad!

The girl beside him had a charm
greater than beauty: a crystalline freshness and innocence, an indescri-bable aura of happiness, which in these latter days may be found rather in Latin countries than in our enlightened Northern lands. Guy told himself that she was Arcadian: a nymph of the woods and streams, Rosalind, tall, slender, graceful; a happy union of mirth and youth and kindness, with a well-hung skirt and in a becoming hat!

It seems churlish to record that her mouth was too large, and her nose
nondescript; neither aquiline, Creek, nor pug, but certainly tip-tilted. She had blue eyes with queer brown flecks in them, as if sunshine had freckled the iris. Add a chin as firm
as the youth's, but with an adorable dimple, (the adjective is Gala-had's).

They passed Guy with a quick glance of indifference, occupied as they were with each other. The girl's eyes must have lingered for an appreciable moment upon the stranger,
sensible perhaps that he was examining her with keen, although polite, interest.

"Your honour, Joy."

She drove a fair ball; he drove much farther, but not so straight.
Side by side they descended the slope towards the green. The girl held out in five; evidently she was no
tyro at the ancient game; the man
made a sad mess of it, being, as obviously, a duffer. But Guy heard him laugh gaily. Nor was he surprised to receive hints from the lady.
How pleasant to be coached by such a creature!

And her name was—Joy.

What fairy godmother had inspired the name?

He rose, reluctantly, to discover what lay beneath the reeks of smoke
to the left: cottages, picturesque, but not in the best repair. Farther on were more cottages, a small hamlet
with the inevitable tavern, but no sign of a church. Guy approached the tavern, the ordinary village inn,
to be commended possibly for its cheese and ale—nothing more. Sauntering by, an object of interest to three urchins and a herd of geese,
he saw a larger cottage, ivy-clad,
facing the high-road with an air of gentility, modestly courting inspection by reason of a neat sign—Apartments.

Guy hesitated, knocked the ashes
from his pipe, approached a porch,
set between latticed windows, and,
finding no bell, tapped firmly upon a stout oak door.

VI.

The most respectable female he had ever seen opened the door.
Small, steel-grey eyes glinted out of a shiny expanse of pink flesh. A white cap crowned some wisps of grizzled hair, parted to the middle and plastered tight to the head, as if with the determination that what was left of a once abundant crop should not be suffered to escape. An immaculate apron bespoke the housekeeper who is rich enough to afford a cook.

"You have apartments to let?"
The respectable female eyed the stranger sharply. Her round, smug face could hardly be said to relax,
but, almost immediately it was suffused with a pleasant glow. Even the great McAllister had remarked that the face of the defendant was, unhappily, more likely to inspire confidence than distrust.

"Certainly. Please come in, sir.
There's a nice fire in the sitting-room."

Hugo was ushered into a small,
square room on the left, simply furnished with substantial furniture.
Three easy-chairs had been designed obviously for the comfort of the sterner sex. Near the fireplace stood what used to be called a chiffonier.
Upon the top of this were some really excellent bits of lustre and a couple of Toby-jugs. Back to the wall was a piano with a high top of fluted red silk. A red flock-paper covered the walls, upon which hung half a dozen sporting prints of "The Right Sort doing the Thing Well." Red rep-curtains flanked the double casement. A canary, in a gilt cage, put his head on one side and examined
Hugo with beady, bright eyes.

"Very snug," said Hugo.

"All the gentlemen say that, sir.
As I used to remark to my 'usand
as was: 'Give a man good victuals,
an easy bed, and a comfortable room,
and what more can he want?'"

Hugo saw a jar of tobacco on the mantel-shelf, and a couple of briar pipes beside it.

"Have you other lodgers?"

"Only one, sir: a young gentleman, very well connected, very pleasant young gentleman, Mr. Esme Burgess. You'll have heard of him."

"Mr. Esme Burgess

Heart Trouble
Nervous Prostration
After suffering five years from nervous prostration and heart trouble Mr. Elias Hollinger, 82 years old of Beaverton, Mich., was completely cured by the great tonic-stimulant, Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

"I have taken Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey for the past two years. For five years previous to that time I was afflicted with heart trouble and nervous prostration. I tried doctors and many nerve remedies, but received little benefit therefrom. After taking Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey for a short time all symptoms of heart trouble disappeared, and I began to get stronger. I lack a few months of being 82 years of age. I am one of the few surviving veterans of the Mexican War, and aside from a disability contracted in the army, I can say that I feel spry and nimble on my feet, and am vigorous indeed, all of which is due to the taking of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. It makes the old young. Although a strong temperance man, for many years, I heartily recommend Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey to all afflicted, whether young or old. — ELIAS HOLLINGER, Beaverton, Mich.

Thousands of men and women, who have almost reached the century mark, tell the same story as Mr. Hollinger about what Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has done toward renewing their youth and keeping them vigorous, hale and hearty and in possession of all their faculties. As a leading doctor says, the secret of the whole thing is that Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, if taken as prescribed, drives out all disease germs, invigorates the brain, enriches the blood, quickens the circulation and prevents decay and old age.

This wonderful remedy has been extolled throughout the world for what it has done for suffering humanity. The success of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey in curing diseases has caused many unreliable dealers to put up substitutes and imitations with which to fool the people, claiming that their substitutes are just as good as Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. Insist on the genuine. It will cure you.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is sold throughout the world by druggists, grocers and dealers, or shipped direct for $1.00 per large bottle.

If in need of advice, write Consulting Physician, Duffy Malt Whiskey Company, Rochester, New York, stating your case fully. Our doctors will send you advice free, together with a handsome illustrated medical booklet containing some of the many thousands of gratifying letters received from men and women in all walks of life, both old and young, who have been cured and benefited by the use of the world's greatest medicine.

COMPTROLLER PRESENTS BUDGET TO THE COUNCIL

CAR CO. VIOLATES ORDINANCE

Does Not Maintain Conductors as Required, But Ald. Hirschheimer Recalls Agreement

At the monthly meeting of the common council last evening, Comptroller W. J. Fries presented the budget for the year 1908, and it was referred to the committee on finance. The figures are based on an assessment of 18 mills. The following is his estimate:

Police	$24,000.00
Fire	46,000.00
Bridges	5,000.00
Permanent bridge repairs	2,000.00
Public highways	25,000.00
Grounds and buildings	2,000.00
Water	18,000.00
Lights	18,000.00

Public library	4,000.00
Total	$462,342.95

Want Car Conductors.

A report was read from the chief of police stating that the La Crosse Street Railway company did not comply with the city ordinance and did not have conductors on the La Crosse street line from the cemetery to the golf grounds and the Market street line. A resolution was proposed to compel the company to observe the city ordinance, but Alderman Hirschheimer stated that the City Railway company had an agreement with the council whereby they were permitted to run the lines mentioned without conductors part of the time. The matter was referred to the committee on ordinances.

The city was ordered to draw an order in favor of the city for $346.10 for the uncollectable taxes. This is the smallest sum that has been uncollectable for a number of years.

Cass Street for Pleasure.

The council passed a resolution reserving Cass street as a pleasure drive and prohibiting the use of the street for heavy teaming, only when necessary. The ordinance was given its first and second reading and referred.

Prohibits Fire Crackers.

Alderman Hirschheimer presented an ordinance prohibiting the use of fire crackers, toy pistols, etc. The violation is punishable by a fine of $5 to $50 or 30 days imprisonment in jail or both. The matter was referred to the ordinance committee, and will be voted on at the next meeting.

The city electrician was granted permission to go to Chicago to attend the Electrical convention Oct. 22 and 23.

A bill asking for $1,000 for a machinery hall was referred.

A. Grams and Son were given permission to build an addition to their building on South Front street.

The police and fire commission order that the Metc ice house located on lot 10, block 8, on the South side addition, be removed, was passed upon by the council, and its removal ordered.

EAU CLAIRE HAS A FINE POSTOFFICE

Postmaster Tscharnar has returned from Eau Claire, where he was called by the postmaster of that place to superintend the construction of the work room in the new postoffice which is being erected at Eau Claire. Mr. Tscharnar assisted the postmaster at Eau Claire with some ideas on how an office should be built and looked over the work. He says that the office is the finest in the state outside of Milwaukee and Superior.

CHICKEN TRAMP ON BURLINGTON TRAIN

A chicken was found on the fender of the engine on the southbound "Q" passenger train yesterday. It was pinched between two slats. The engine men say that the only place it could have got on was at St. Paul, because they did not stop long enough at any other place to let it on.

When the train arrived at La Crosse the chicken hopped out from under the engine. The callboy tried to catch it but the hen ran back to its place under the engine, where it is supposed to have ridden from St. Paul.

WINTER CAMPAIGN
AT Y INAUGURATED

BANQUET LAST NIGHT PROVES A BIG SUCCESS

SPEAKERS APPEAR TO BOYS

Interesting Program and Excellent Supper Make the Event a Most Delightful One

The banquet given at the Y. M. C. A. last evening to inaugurate a strenuous winter campaign developed into an appeal to business and influential men of the city for the boys. All three speakers, County Judge John Brindley, R. E. Squires of Winona and W. H. Wones of Milwaukee had a great deal to say about the boys and urged that this line of Y. M. C. A. work was by no means of least importance.

The banquet was a success in every way. The guests, about 100 in number, were seated promptly at 6:30 in the gymnasium of the institution. The hall had been prettily decorated and a number of ladies and pretty girls attended to the serving. The blessing was asked by the Rev. Henry Faville, pastor of the Congregational church.

The dinner was sumptuous, and those who assisted in preparing it had much praise. The menu was delightfully arranged and everything went off in due order.

R. E. Squires Speaks.

F. H. Scofield acted as toastmaster and after a brief talk on the purposes of the Y. M. C. A., what they had attained in the past and the hopes of the directors in the future, he introduced Mr. R. E. Squires, superintendent of the Winona Y. M. C. A.

In his remarks Mr. Squires told some of the strange and amusing incidents relative to the opening of the new Y. M. C. A. building at Winona a few years ago. He said that the plans of a building always looked nice when spread out on a table, but that the finished product was generally much different. "That was our experience," he asserted, "and I'll tell you it caused us no little trouble."

Urges Moral Training.

He urged that in the work of the Y. M. C. A. the physical training be not the only subject promoted, but said that the moral training perhaps needed more than the physical. "Get young men into your organization," he urged, "and then get them interested in the work." He pleaded that the association should not lose its main purpose, that of giving a helping hand to those who needed it. "The greater portion of the work," said Mr. Squires, "falls upon the secretary and the directors of the organization," and he urged that the members be willing to help when needed.

Milwaukeean Talks.

Mr. W. H. Wones of Milwaukee, whose special line of Y. M. C. A. work is the "boys," urged the necessity of devoting a good portion of the time to them. "Some of the business men in the association," he said, "should 'mix' with the boys and then get them into the association. Boys will take a hold of the work more readily than men and are easily moulded into the paths of righteousness. What a boy is depends almost entirely upon his environments. Brought up and told what is right and trained from the time that he is young the average and in fact the majority," he said, "will do what is right."

Judge Pleads for Boys.

County Judge John Brindley was the next speaker and his entire address was a "boost" for the boy. According to Mr. Brindley a boy is never a criminal and to be forced to send him to jail, the reformatory or prison is a bad thing. "All boys are good," he said, and added that when a boy does anything out of the way it is more out of mischief than anything else.

Parents to Blame Sometimes.

The parents are on more than one occasion, he said, the main cause of the boys' erring ways. The parents are also some of the hardest propositions that he, as judge, has to meet. To prove his assertions that the boy can be handled properly and will do good, he told of case after case that had come before him, boys brought up for minor offenses. "Of those I have paroled and told to report to me," said the judge, "there is not one but what is doing well today." He urged the necessity of the establishing a juvenile court here and told the reasons, that of uplifting and setting misguided youths on the track.

Quartette Pleases.

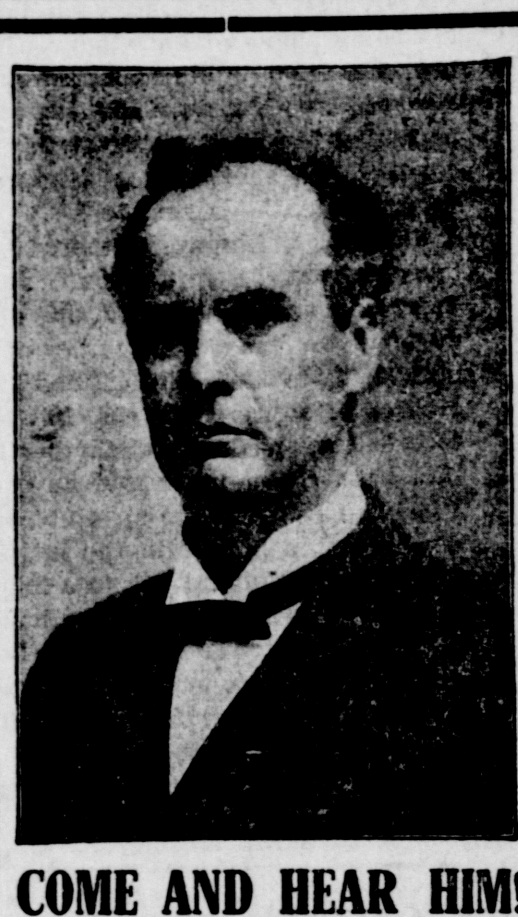

During the evening a number of selections were rendered by the Cecilia quartette which were very much appreciated.

COME AND HEAR HIM!

PROHIBITIONIST
COMES TUESDAY

VICE PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE
TO SPEAK

WATKINS A FINE SPEAKER

Will Expound Prohibition Principles

at a Meeting at the Y. M. C. A.

Auditorium

Aaron S. Watkins, prohibition candidate for the vice presidency will open the "dry" campaign in La Crosse county next Tuesday, Oct. 13, with an address at the Y. M. C. A. hall. The local prohibitionists are endeavoring to get out a large attendance, as Dr. Watkins is a national character in the campaign against the liquor interests.

Born in Ohio.

The Hon. Aaron S. Watkins, Ph. D. LL. D., vice president of the Ohio Northern university, and candidate for vice president on the prohibition ticket, was born Nov. 29th, 1863, on a farm near Rushsylvania, Logan county, Ohio, where he spent his childhood.

He is the youngest of ten children, descendant from Welsh, English and Scotch parents. His father, William W. Watkins, being of Welsh and English; his mother, Rebecca Elliott, being Welsh and Scotch. His name is pure, simple Welsh.

He comes from sturdy Quaker and Methodist stock, with some of the iron blood of George Fox and William Penn in his veins. At the age of sixteen he began teaching and later entered college, graduating from the O. N. U. in 1886. In the meantime, however, he had begun the study of law in the office of his brother, Judge C. W. Watkins of Huntington, Ind., and in 1886 was admitted to the bar. His mother wanted him to be a minister of the gospel instead of a lawyer. It was not her good fortune to live to see her son begin his work in the line that would have afforded her so much pleasure.

He enjoyed the study of law, but not the practice, and he again spent some time teaching.

In 1890 Dr. Watkins married Miss Emma L. Davis of East Liberty and to them was born a son, Willard Merrill (named in honor of Frances Willard), who is now a bright, amiable lad of ten years.

Went into Ministry.

It was while superintending the public schools of Quincy, O., that he felt called upon to follow Christ's apostolic commission, "Go ye therefore and teach all nations," and began at once the study of theology along with his school work. In 1893 he was licensed as a local preacher and was admitted to the conference in September of that year. He was given charge at Continental, Ohio, and in nine months was sent to the county seat, Ottawa, there having been a vacancy at that place. From Ottawa he was sent to Edgerton, where he remained five years, after which he went to Delta and later to North Baltimore, from which place he was called upon to accept the chair of literature at the O. N. U. at Ada.

In 1900 Taylor university of Upland, Ind., bestowed upon him the degree of Doctor of Philosophy and two years later made him Doctor of Laws.

Dr. Watkins was candidate for congress from the Ninth Ohio district in 1904 and his party was proud to have him as their leader and candidate for governor in 1905. No truer, nobler or abler son of the Buckeye state could have graced her gubernatorial chair. He had gone to the state convention seeking no honor from his party, but made such an excellent speech that the hearts of the delegates were captured and H. F. MacLane of Hiram moved a suspension of the rules and Dr. Watkins was nominated by acclamation, accompanied by a storm of applause. The vote which he received at the following election was highly complimentary.

It's the little happiness we sow that gives us the harvest of perpetual pleasure.

ATTENTION! ATTENTION!

AARON S. WATKINS

The Prohibition candidate for Vice President, will deliver an address

Tuesday Evening, Oct. 13

At Y. M. C. A. Hall, La Crosse, Wis.

Mr. Watkins is one of the foremost leaders in the rapidly growing movement against the legalized liquor traffic, and a speaker of great power and eloquence. It is a rare opportunity for the people of La Crosse and surrounding territory in Wisconsin and Minnesota to hear Prohibition principles faithfully expounded.

HEN WHICH ENTERED THE MISSOURI STATE HOUSE

Peggy is in a class by herself. She is the only hen who was ever known to enter a state house for an honorable position among its governors.

But be it known that Peggy is no ordinary hen. She is the Mrs. Vanderbilt of the chickens of the United States.

Born and raised in Kansas City, Peggy is now valued at $5,000 and five of her children were recently sold to Madame Paderewski for $7,500. She belongs to the Crystal White Orpington class and is 97 3-10 perfect.

Because of the unquestionable supremacy which Peggy enjoys in the hen world, a magnificent portrait of her has been painted by a celebrated western artist, and, as shown above, Peggy is to hang in the Missouri state house at Jefferson City, among the pictures of other individuals who have helped to make Missouri famous.

ABOUT FLORIDA

Mr. Louis Larson of St. Augustine, Florida, representing the Florida East Coast Railway, is in the city. The East Coast is the most famous winter tourist resort in the south. The Florida East Coast Railway is being extended to Key West and trains are operated within 47 miles of that city. It is the paradise for winter gardening and fruit growing, enormous profits being made. Home seekers' excursions from Chicago are conducted during October and November. Go down and investigate. Mr. Ed. Larson of this city, has free illustrated literature for distribution.

Double Bills
"The Defaulter," a melodrama founded upon the recent and sensational New York bank robberies, and "The Devil" by request are two of the plays to be given by the Grace Hayward company at theater Sunday afternoon and night, "The Devil" being played in the evening.

There is a complication in the New York booking office that gives Manager Gage two different shows for tomorrow and he has decided to play them both so two performances will be given for the one price of admission.

"The Norwoods" will present their sensational and highly entertaining performances and the Grace Hayward company, will offer two plays and all their vaudeville acts.

COMMITTEE ON CITY LIGHT PLANT

Mayor Anderson has appointed a committee on "lights" in accordance with the resolution passed by the council August 14. This committee will take up the consideration of installing a municipal lighting plant. The new committee is composed of Aldermen Lang, Jojode and Schnell. The matter which was brought up in the council was that the city build a plant in connection with the present pumping station. This would have to be considerably enlarged to accommodate a lighting plant which would furnish the city with street lights. The matter would also have to be brought before the state railroad rate commission which has charge of such matters and unless the committee gets the commission's permission it could not be built. A plant for furnishing lights for the streets would cost in the neighborhood of $50,000.

BOTH DENY THEY SEEK THE OFFICE

800 PERSONS HURT IN PHILADELPHIA

GREAT CRUSH AT GRANDSTAND FOUNDERS' DAY

TROUBLE OVER THE TICKETS

Scores of People Trampled—Police Drive Back Crowd and Call Ambulances

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 10.—William Penn, apostle of peace, peaceable debater and patron of society, artist, folk and others who made up the great, the glittering, silken historic pageant, the star feature of founders' week, looked down in horror yesterday afternoon upon a line of fights and riots that ended after at least 800 men, women and children had been treated for wounds.

Of the hundreds who were carried away in ambulances and ambulances perhaps fifty are seriously injured. All along Broad street during the procession the ambulances dashed and automobiles pressed into emergency service whizzed to permanent and to temporary hospital structures.

Trouble Over Tickets

The trouble was precipitated by the concerted refusal of the grandstand owners to honor the tickets given to them by Director of Public Safety Clay for the use of the city's guests, Grand Army men, members, etc., when permission to enter the grandstand was granted.

This time the director demanded 10 per cent of the seats in each stand. They were granted grudgingly; the owners had not made much money during the week and knew they could retrieve by today's show. Early this morning they got together, bade defiance to police and administration and decided not to recognize the 10 per cent tickets. From early morning crowds had been flocking to the city. The grandstands behind the 10 per cent seats were stuffed full. As soon as this was effected the owners let down the bars and stuffed the reserved seats. When the holders of these tickets appeared there was no place for them.

Scores of Fights.

Immediately fights sprang up from one end of the stand to the other. The police were powerless. The stand owners had gotten legal advice and there was no effort made at the city hall to force the contract. In the meantime the throngs, excited by the fighting, swayed about furiously, women fell fainting and children were trampled under foot.

Police with their hats battered in, grandstand ushers and attaches with torn clothing and bleeding faces and cursing, fighting groups of men were looked down upon by the beautifully garbed men and women.

Driven Back by Police.

Surging in from every cross street the mass of people jammed against the heavy ropes, threatening to burst them down and pour in a solid mass across the line of parade. Only by herculean efforts of the police was this prevented and the crowds hurried back against the walls of buildings on either side. Many were injured in this way.

The seats on the stands sold like hot cakes at from $3 to $10 each.

There were sixty-eight floats representing the history of Philadelphia from the time the first vessel sailed up the Delaware river in 1616 to the present day.

Liberty Bell in Parade.

Accorded a position of honor in a line of sixty-nine magnificent floats was the old Liberty bell. Under the initial subdivision of "exploration and early settlement," the parade began with a model of the "Onrust," the first ship to enter the Delaware in 1616.

The second section of the pageant was given over to the history of William Penn and the Quakers, ten floats being employed to depict the scenes of the period.

"Colonial Philadelphia" comprised the third section. It included gala floats showing the proclaiming of George I. in 1714, the coming to town of Benjamin Franklin in 1723, Franklin and his kite, and other scenes.

The revolution was treated in the fourth division, while the others dealt with the successive steps of the nation under the constitution.

WORK PROVIDED FOR THIRTY THREE

The monthly report of Superintendent McMullen of the Wisconsin Free Employment bureau shows employment provided as follows:

Males—Bricklayers 2, farm hands 2, laborers 12, quarrymen 2, teamsters 2, yardmen 1. Total 22.
Females—Chambermaids 2, domestics 6, kitchen girls 2, laundresses 2, scrub-women 1. Total 11.

MRS. McLEOD CONFUSED.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—The police today took Mrs. Frances McLeod to Belford, N. J., to identify if possible the body of a boy believed from his clothing to be that of her son. After identification of the clothing she told the police many conflicting stories.

WHY TAKE RHEUMALINE?

The person about to select a medicine for the relief of their rheumatism may regard it as strange that so large a proportion of the residents of La Crosse representing rich and poor alike are engaged in this same quest. The conditions briefly are these: Every mouthful of food contains some Uric Acid. The basis of all Rheumatism is Uric Acid. The medicine that relieves Rheumatism therefore must be a perfect Uric Acid Solvent. All claim this, but few are.

Rheumaline is a perfect Uric Acid Solvent, and Kast, the representative, does not ask you to rely solely on his statement but offers you absolute proof not in a far away foreign city, but right here in La Crosse. Read What William Zeighan says, and don't take it for granted but go and see him. Prove this assertion, and then if you are only half convinced, go to see Kast at Hoeschler's Drug Store and he will offer you still more proof that cannot help but batter down the most obstinate skepticism.

Oct. 3rd, 1908.

The Rheumaline Co., Cincinnati, O.
Gentlemen:
I have taken your Rheumaline

Remedies with very good results. I have had rheumatism for about four years and have just finished my fourth bottle of Rheumaline. I am glad to say I am entirely free from pain and my general health very good. I will cheerfully recommend your remedy to any one that is afflicted with rheumatism.

Yours truly,

WM. ZEIGHAN,
1507 Fairwell St.

Rheumaline cures because it goes to the seat of all kind of Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica, Neuralgia, Gout or any blood or organic disorders arising from Uric Acid. Its cost is $1.00 per bottle. Rheumaline Capsules cost 50c per box. These two form a Rheumaline Treatment, and should be taken together. The Liquid for Rheumatism; the Capsules for Pain. One important thing in taking Rheumaline, is the bowels. They must be kept open, not by salts or the ordinary cathartic, but Rheumaline Tablets which are soothing, easy and effective, causing no cramping or griping. Their cost is 25c a box. These three may be procured at Hoeschler's Drug Store, 123 So. Fourth street. Get the Treatment today. It removes the cause.

STOCK EXCHANGE IS PANIC PARENT

people have balances, the news is spread that the securities are good and are going higher. The people buy them on margins. Then when the margin is ready, a panic is manipulated on the floor of the exchange, stocks drop and the leading financiers step in with halos around their heads, the saviors of the country, modestly consenting to take back the stocks for half what is paid for them. The abolishment of the ticker and selling on margins will do much to correct the evil.

MURDERED, THROWN UNDER A TRAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—R. M. Osborne, a wealthy tailor, was killed today under the wheels of an elevated train. The police say he was robbed, stunned and thrown on the track. He was apparently regaining consciousness when the train struck and killed him, though the motor-man endeavored to stop the car.

NATIONS IN POINT TO POINT FLY TODAY

BERLIN, Oct. 10.—Twenty-five aeroplanes today contested in a point to point balloon race. This is preliminary to the international cup race which starts tomorrow and in which two Americans are entrants. One hundred thousand people watched today's start, which included entrants from four countries. The objective point is 65 miles northeast of the starting place, Schmargendorf.

PICKET INJUNCTION SUSTAINED TODAY

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—The recent sweeping injunction against picketing rendered by Federal Judge Sanborn in the Allis-Chalmers molders case was sustained today by United States court of appeals. Six words were inserted in the original order of the injunction making it read strikers "shall not picket, persuade or coax workmen from entering the employ of the company in an intimidating or threatening manner."

BRYAN EMULATES HEARST.

BLACKBURN, Mo., Oct. 10.—Bryan in Missouri today charged the government with not endeavoring to enforce the anti-trust law when the steel companies are violators. He read a letter from former acting Attorney Richards which seemed to prove the fact.

SIMS ADVISED BY ROOSEVELT.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 10.—Edwin W. Sims, United States attorney for the northern district of Illinois, and J. H. Welkerson, a special attorney of Chicago, visited the president after being summoned by Attorney General Bonaparte to discuss the cases in the district which are to come before the supreme court next week.

TOMAH INDIANS IN BATTLE TODAY

LA CROSSE SCHOOL FEELS SURE OF TAKING VICTORY

RED SKINS ARRIVE TODAY

Coach Lookaround Says His Men are in Excellent Condition but Won't Venture Prediction

With ideal weather conditions and both the Tomah and La Crosse teams in fine condition an interesting game of football may be expected this afternoon. After signal practice last evening the local team finished up a week of hard work and as a result Coach Cooper predicts a victory. Considerable interest is being shown towards the game by the high school students as well as the citizens, and when the game is called a large crowd is expected by the management. The Tomah team arrived on Train No. 55 and Coach "Lookaround" of this team reports that his men are in excellent condition. He would say nothing as to the outcome of the game.

Capt. Tourtelotte of the home team expects a victory, but thinks that La Crosse will not have a walk-away as they did last year.

The teams will line up as follows: La Crosse—R. Ray, lb; Fred Holbrook, lb; Jacobson, or Brindley, lg; Tiedeman, c; Roddy, rg; Karl Jungbluth, rt; Capt. Tourtelotte, re; Shaw, q; Frank Novak, rh; Fred Dickens, lb; W. Tourtelotte, fb.

Tomah—Matchoma, lb; Lookaround, lt; Skye, lg; Mitchell, c; DeWomes, rg; Lookaround, rt; Blackbird, re; Papish, q; LaMotte, rh; Vincent, lb; Johnson, fb.

Subs—La Crosse, M. Novak, Grimes and Collins.

Second Team to Caledonia

The second team of the high school plays at Caledonia this afternoon with the high team of that city. According to report Caledonia has improved considerably since its recent game with Sparta and expects to spring a surprise on the local boys. The team representing this city is in fine condition and according to Capt. Keeler a victory may be expected. The team will line up as follows:

Leslie Derr, c; Harry Gatterdam, rg; George Walker, lb; Chamberlain, rt; Ray Keeler, Capt., lt; Schweizer, er; Rogers, lb; Leislering, q; Siden-sol, rh; Hundemark, lb; Stevenson, fb; subs, Hyde and Jungbluth.

BIG EIGHT TEAMS IN SECOND GAMES

BOSTON—First half: Carlisle, 8; Syracuse, 0.
PRINCETON—First half: Princeton, 0; Lafayette, 0.
NEW HAVEN—First half: Yale, 12; Holy Cross, 0.

The big eight football teams are playing their second game of the season today. Chicago's game with the Indians is drawing large interest. Northwestern meets the alumni with show of success. Badgers are expected to dispose of Lawrence, Iowa goes with Coe college and Minnesota has a hard game with Ames today. Purdue should win from Earlham. Michigan will tackle the "ag-gies" at Lansing and should find easy picking. Nebraska has an easy opponent in Grinnell.

Harder Games in East

In the east the games gradually are getting harder, and some of the larger eleven are slow in rounding into form. Yale will meet a worthy opponent in Holy Cross, as will Harvard in Williams, Cornell will tackle the husky team from Oberlin, O., but the Ithacans should have little trouble in winning. Pennsylvania because of its great showing in former games, should defeat Penn. State and the Carlisle Indians will win from Syracuse. Dartmouth, which has been playing the most consistent football of any of the eastern eleven, will tackle Tufts, and the Hanoverians should have an easy game.

Eastern games scheduled today are:

Yale and Holy Cross at New Haven. Harvard and Williams at Cambridge. Princeton and Lafayette at Princeton. Cornell and Oberlin at Ithaca. Pennsylvania and Penn. State at Philadelphia.

Army and Trinity at West Point. Navy and Dickinson at Annapolis. Brown and Bowdoin at Providence. Dartmouth and Tufts at Hanover. Syracuse and Carlisle Indians at Buffalo. Wesleyan and Union at Schenectady. Minneapolis—Minnesota 10; Ames 6.

RE-SENTENCED FOR THE SAME CRIME

After being released from the county jail where they had already served a ninety day sentence for "magazine grafting," Mrs. Jeanne La Roe and Sam Moore, who were picked up here some time ago after working numerous La Crosse people, were re-arrested and found guilty again today on the same charge and will serve another 90 days here.

WOMEN TO LEARN TO FLY.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Women are to learn to fly and the New York Women's Aero club is in its genesis. The project of feminine aeronauts was conceived by Mrs. Lake, wife of the constructor of the submarine vessels, and Mrs. Gillespie, whose husband won fame with his aeroplane. Mrs. Leo Stevens, wife of Capt. Stevens, has been selected as leader of the organization.

DALLAS SAVED FROM FIRE

DALLAS, S. D., Oct. 10.—The prairie fire, which last night threatened Dallas, veered south towards the Nebraska line driven by a 60 mile gale. The fire started several miles north of here by a cigar stump dropped by a land seeker.

There are no interesting developments in the land registration.

THE AMATEURS AT THE BIJOU

The amateurs held forth at the Bijou last night. There was some disappointment on the part of the management due to the fact that some of the artists failed to show up at the last moment, but those who appeared gave a good account of themselves.

Young Walter was the first on the bill. The juvenile forgot to bring his music with him, but that didn't matter for his childish precocity was a direct route to the good will of the audience. He was nicely received.

The Spaghetti Twinkles, the original La Crosse Newspaper duo, followed in a polyglot musical potpourri of popular and unpopular songs served a la Bronson. Charlie Larsen threw ragged edged spotlights of green cheese hue upon them. The boys have very good voices which with proper training would make them available as good stage material. The audience properly honored them.

The piece de resistance was a child imitation song by La Petite Maggie, a charming and blushing young damsel on the overwise side of some forty winters—and summers. The appreciative demonstration with which this number was received by the exuberant crowd proclaimed it the feature stunt of the amateurs. The young lady's name could not be ascertained, but she is believed to be a retired theatrical star of the first magnitude who, tired of the glare and glitter of artificial stage life, is leading the simple life in the suburbs of Goose Town. She will be seen again.

The acts were of such excellence as to obviate the necessity of using the hook.

Another extra number will be added to next week's bill. Mr. Milton Kerr, illustrated song singer at the Bijou last season, will appear by special request. Mr. Kerr will sing:

goers are aware, "The Great Divide" in locale, characterization, and development of plot is essentially and intensely American. Even the most enthusiastic admirers of Mr. Moody's gem were not too sanguine as to the prospect of the play's success before foreign audiences when the announcement was first made for the rights of translation had been received from nearly every European capital. The record of plays by American writers which proved very popular and successful in this country but failed to gain approval when transplanted to London was well-nigh disheartening; and the fact that many of these London failures were plays not exclusively American in theme seemed to argue against "The Great Divide" meeting with any success outside of the United States. The result, however, has proven as inspiring, as the experiment of Mr. Miller and Mr. Moody was daring. Cablegrams from Lisbon where "The Great Divide" recently had its first performance in Portuguese convey the news that not for months and months has such spontaneous and enthusiastic applause been heard in a playhouse. And the story of the success in Lisbon is but a duplication of the record "The Great Divide" promise in other foreign capitals. The basic idea of the Moody play—the dramatic conflict—each the product of antipodal environments and plans of existence, the tremendous contrast in natures—and the love that logically bridges the chasm of sectional differences into the common understanding of affection—has proved to be universal in its appeal to all lovers of the drama in all climes and it would seem safe to predict that before "The Great Divide" has outlived its usefulness it will have been publicly performed more times than any other previous dramatic work.

"That's What the Rose Said to Me," and "Bandero," in Mexican bandit costume, the last song being exceptionally well rendered by Mr. Kerr.

A lady's $10 hat will be given away tomorrow night at the first performance. The lady holding the lucky number must be in the audience at the first performance.

FITCHE'S GIRLS COMING HERE

There was the enthusiasm of a first night about the greeting "Girls" and its interpreters received at the Garrick last night, when the clever Clyde Fitch comedy opened for its second week. The play is in the best Fitch vein, and as a laugh maker it is the best farce comedy that has come this way in recent times. Like all Fitch plays, it is not like other playwrights' outputs. There is a delightful intimacy about the whole story, and it fairly sparkles with smart lines of the sort that has made the Fitch fame. And it is not all fun, either. There are really pretty sentimental spots here and there that are in no way hackneyed, and the whole makes as fine a three hours' amusement as any one could ask.

The company is very evenly balanced. Of the "girls," one is in doubt all the time whether "Pamela" (Bessie Toner) or "Vi" (Ethel Terry) or "Kate" (Suzette Jackson) is the most lovable, all play roles so well. Caroline Locke, who is celebrated as an interpreter of old maid types, is at her best as "Lucille," who "elocutes." H. S. Northrup, Albert Grau, Frank Loot and E. A. Locke do capital in the leading male roles. Fred Stanton has only a few minutes' work as the janitor, but he makes more than good. If you enjoy good farce comedy see "Girls."

It may be a long time before anything as good as it comes St. Louisward again.—St. Louis Globe.

A POLICEMAN'S LOT May Be a Happy One After All

An Ill. Ex. Chief of Police found an easy and safe way out of the ills caused by coffee. He says: "I suffered intensely from heart trouble and nervousness for five years, and though treated by some of the best physicians in this city, did not get permanent relief until I changed from coffee to Postum."

"A friend of my family was visiting at our house and seeing my condition, insisted that coffee was at the bottom of my trouble. I confess I was skeptical but promised to try Postum in place of coffee."

"It was nearly three weeks before I noticed much of any change, as my case was a bad one. Then I saw that my nervousness was gradually disappearing. A little later I was able to sleep a part of the night on my left side, something I had been unable to do for 5 years at least."

"I kept on using Postum, and the result is, so far as heart trouble and nervousness are concerned, I am a well man."

"The best proof is that I am writing this with my own hand, a thing I was unable to do for several years prior to the change from coffee to Postum."

"There's a Reason."

cowboys with "A Cowboy Girl," which comes to the La Crosse theater Saturday, Oct. 17. This is not to be wondered at when it is known that Mr. Lenton, its author spent several years of his life on the famous X. I. T. ranch of Texas and positively insists that in all that time he never saw a cow puncher on his daily rounds that looked as though he had just stepped out of the barber's chair or come direct from his tailor. All the chaps belts, holsters, etc., used in the production are absolutely correct and the majority have seen actual service on the range. One pair formerly belonged to one of the Dalton boys before he turned road agent.

THE DEVIL IN DOUBLE BILL

"The Devil" which was played here several Sundays ago was missed by many on account of the inclement weather. As there was a mixup in dates at the La Crosse theater, Sunday, Oct. 11, matinee and night, the Grace Hayward company returns for the one day and will give their performances in connection with "The Norwoods," "The Devil" being presented by the Grace Hayward Co. at night and "The Defaulter," a highly sensational melodrama dealing with recent New York bank robbery, in the afternoon. All the vaudeville acts will be entirely changed and both shows will be given for the same price of admission.

"BROWN'S IN TOWN" HERE OCTOBER 25

"Brown's in Town," which comes to the La Crosse theater Oct. 25, is a funny combination of humor judiciously intermingled with pretty dances, catchy music and original songs, and proves conclusively that the author has studied the popular fancy and seems to know what the people want. It is a satire on the young man who secretly keeps his marriage from his father.

LION AND MOUSE COMES HERE AGAIN

With enriched vigor "The Lion and the Mouse" will be seen at the La Crosse theater on Oct. 30th. Friday. Henry B. Harris is said to have left no detail unfinished in his supreme effort to present Charles Klein's greatest drama with exacting termination. Mr. Harris has taken advantage of the opportunity to choose the better players from two companies for their respective roles in the company to be seen here, a fact which should insure a thorough interpretation of each part. Reports from the trail claim the company to be the best yet seen in "The Lion and the Mouse," which is a most complimentary recommendation for the present organization.

AGED MAN TO JAIL

RACINE, Wis., Oct. 10.—Thomas Mahr, 58 years old, expert tinner and resident of Racine for thirty-nine years, was found guilty of having entered the saloon of Supervisor Harry Miller and stealing $34. Judge Smiding sentenced him to the state prison at Waupun for a term of 18 months.

NEWS OF NEARBY VILLAGES AND TOWNS

TWO OLD RESIDENTS OF M'GREGOR DIE

M'GREGOR, Ia., Oct. 10. — The funeral of Frank Fisher, one of the early residents of McGregor, occurred here Wednesday. His death was caused by long existing heart trouble. In 1863 he came to McGregor and went into partnership with his brother in the wholesale liquor business. A few years later he took up the trade of gunsmithing, which he had learned from his father back in Cologne, Germany. He was an expert workman and in those days, when game was plenty on the hills and river, he became widely known as a gunsmith of unusual skill. He also was one of the greatest hunters and best shots. He was sixty-nine years of age at his death. A widow and three children survive him. Mrs. Joe Adams of Chicago, Mr. Peter Fisher of St. Paul and Miss Della at home. The funeral services were held at St. Mary's Catholic church, Wednesday, Rev. Father London officiating. The following were present from out of town: Peter Fisher, St. Paul, son-in-law; Mr. Joe Adams, Chicago, nephew; Nicholas Fisher and niece, Miss Nettie Huelbeck. Tuesday evening Mr. John Orr passed away at his home on Grand avenue, at the age of 87. The funeral was held Thursday afternoon, Rev. O. Barz officiating. Mrs. McHale returned to St. Paul Monday. Mrs. Frank Churchill departed Thursday for Idaho Falls, Idaho, after spending the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Kinard. Will Kramers returned from Chicago Tuesday. The Frauen Verein met with Mrs. Benjamin Wednesday. Everybody reported a good time. Miss Rachael Updegraff returned from Iowa City. Ben Warner and wife and son Walter and wife are spending a couple of weeks at home. Clifton Olson left Monday for Lake City, Minn., where he will attend school. Mr. Gilden Townsend went to Waterloo to attend the Grand Chapter of the Masons Tuesday. Mrs. W. R. Strong of Browndale is the guest of her mother, Mrs. M. A. Jordan. Mrs. R. A. Schumaker and two daughters of Bemidji, Minn., are the guests of relatives in the city. Max Bishop, democratic candidate for clerk of the court, was in town Monday. Mr. James McLaughlin attended the dance at Clayton Monday night. Mr. George Kramer of Van Couver, Wash., visited here with relatives the fore part of the week. He was on his way home from Germany. Dan Claudy returned Tuesday from Colorado and purchased the Barrow property on Evergreen Hill. Ben Olson is excavating back of his house on Ann street. Mesdames Walker and Barron went to La Crosse Wednesday, returning Thursday. Miss Mary Eull, trained nurse of Chicago, is here visiting home folks. Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Gilchrist went to Chicago Wednesday to spend a few days. Rev. Williams went to Mt. Vernon Tuesday to attend conference. Charles Widman is ill from an attack of pneumonia. Miss Rachael Larabee is visiting relatives at Grand Meadow township. Dr. W. A. Hall was over from Prairie du Chien Wednesday. Andre Allen and brother John returned from Maxbass, N. D., Wednesday. We are pleased to learn Mr. A. F.

Rogers, former resident of McGregor, has taken the postoffice at Farmersburg. Merle Wilder arrived from La Crosse Tuesday to look after his burned property. Dr. G. Dayton Webb of Wilmington is here to visit relatives and friends. Miss Grace McHale returned to St. Paul Tuesday. Chas. Muir and Otto Emberson were in town Tuesday. They are republican candidates for clerk of the court and treasurer. The following went to Chamberlain, S. D., Monday night to register for a quarter section of land at the Rosebud reservation: F. T. Boyle, John and Anton Snyder, John Heubach, Dr. J. E. Webb, Frank C. Sloane, Lorn L. Haight, Chas. Kreuter, Albert Keske, Chas. Cowles, Fred Orr and D. G. Webb. Joe Gerich, Jr., was initiated into the mysteries of Woodcraft Monday evening. Mrs. Cady of Spencer, Iowa, and Mrs. Troendal of Minneapolis are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Rosier. PRESBYTERIANS IN MEETING. GRAND FORKS, N. D., Oct. 10. — An interesting session of the Presbytery of emmina was held at Inkster. Rev. D. M. McIntosh, of aPrk River, was elected moderator and Rev. Hibbard, of Langdon, was elected clerk. The installation of Dr. Jones as pastor at Inkster took place in the evening. C. Gleason of Medford, was ordained and G. Young, of Concrete, was licensed to preach. The reports from the churches in the bounds of the presbytery indicated splendid growth in the past six months. A Sprained Ankle. As usually treated a sprained ankle will disable the injured person for a month or more, but by applying Chamberlain's Liniment and obsesting the directions with each bottle, faithfully, a cure may, in most cases, be effected in less than one week's time. This liniment is a most remarkable preparation; try it for a sprain or a bruise, or when laid up with chronic or muscular rheumatism, and you are certain to be delighted with the prompt relief which it affords. ALLEGES THAT HE STOLE WHOLE HERD. MASON CITY, Ia., Oct. 10. — John Michalak was arrested at his farm residence near Plymouth. For eighteen months Dakota authorities have been after the man whom it is alleged stole an entire herd of horses from George McBride, a Sioux half-breed, on the reservation sixty miles south of Chamberlain. Monday Michalak went to Chamberlain to register for the Rosebud opening. A fellow who now implicates himself as one of the thieves told on Michalak, and officers followed him here and made the arrest. Several horses branded G. M. B. were found on the farm, and McBride says the brand is his. Officers are now in search of Jersey who lives with Michalak, claiming that he was implicated in the stealing. PROFESSOR WRITES BOOK ON HIS DOG. ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 10. — "Dun" in the story was my pet dog "Dun," was the revelation made by Dr. Richard Burton, author of "Three of a Kind," in a talk to the students of the University of Minnesota. The dog was taken with rabies and shot by his master, who has now immortalized him. "Dun" was more than a pet to me," said Dr. Burton. "I was badly shocked one day when I discovered that he was a victim of rabies. I took him to the cellar of my home and tied him up. I went near him he tried to bite me. I then was forced to shoot him. I can never forget him. His collar hangs over my fireplace now." MUST PRODUCE MOOSE HEAD. GRAND RAPIDS, Minn., Oct. 10. — William B. Perrington, William Anderson and Charles Wright were arraigned on charges of having moose meat in their possession. Perrington was given a severe fine which, with the costs, amounted to $78.70. The state game and fish commission holds another charge against him which will be prosecuted unless Perrington returns the moose head which, it is alleged, he has hid somewhere in the woods. Anderson was fined $50 and costs, amounting to $75. Wright's case was continued until Oct. 16. Woman Interrupts Political Speaker. A well dressed woman interrupted a political speaker recently by continually coughing. If she had taken Foley's Honey and Tar it would have cured her cough quickly and expelled the cold from her system. The genuine Foley's Honey and Tar contains no opiates and is in a yellow package. ITCHING HUMOR ON LITTLE BOY

His Hands were a Solid Mass, and Disease Spread All Over His Body
—In Four Days the Child was Entirely Cured—Mother Strongly

RECOMMENDS CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"One day we noticed that our little boy was all broken out with itching sores. We first noticed it on his little hands. His hands were not as bad then, and we didn't think anything serious would result. But the next day we heard of the Cuticura Remedies being so good for itching sores, etc., that I thought I would get them. By this time the disease had spread all over his body, and his hands were nothing but a solid mass of this itching disease. I went to the drug store and purchased a box of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment, and that night I stripped my little boy and took the Cuticura Soap and lukewarm water and washed him well. Then I dried him with a soft bath towel, and took the Cuticura Ointment and rubbed him thoroughly with it. I did this every evening before I put him to bed and in three or four nights he was entirely cured. You have my permission to publish this because anybody who suffered as my baby did ought to know of the Cuticura Remedies. I will surely and gladly recommend the Cuticura Remedies for they are a godsend to all suffering with skin diseases. Mrs. Frank Donahue, 208 Fremont St., Kokomo, Ind., Sept. 16, 1907."

PIMPLES

And Blackheads Prevented and

THE HUMAN SIDE OF CORPORATIONS

People are coming to understand pretty well that corporations are not entirely " soulless " after all. They are human enterprises and so have many human characteristics, including both faults and virtues. Their peculiarities are not very different from the peculiarities of individuals—and, incidentally, are much more easily remedied when they are disagreeable.

The Wisconsin Telephone Company is a thoroughly modern corporation, in the best sense of the phrase. It is enterprising, energetic and honest. It is not infallible, but then, nobody is. It has made mistakes, of course, and very likely will make others, but experience shows that it is anxious to "do about right" and cheerfully adopts any betterment it can.

Sometimes the company finds the public laboring under a misapprehension and says so, frankly. Telephone engineering and operation are difficult professions and their details naturally cannot be understood by the layman without special investigation. But the Wisconsin Telephone Company always has a reason for what it does and is perfectly willing to explain it.

A JEWELER'S EXPERIENCE

C. R. Kluger, The Jeweler, 1060 Virginia Ave., Indianapolis, Ind., writes: "I was so weak from kidney trouble that I could hardly walk a hundred feet. THE FIGHT FOR NEW YORK IS THE FIGHT FOR THE PRESIDENCY

The pivotal state of New York, showing the four candidates whose fate may depend upon the New York vote, namely, Governor Hughes and Presidential nominee Taft, on the republican side, and democratic Candidate for Governor Chandler and Democratic Candidate for President Bryan on the other.

HENDRICK THINKS IT'S G. O. P.

But to Say So Would be Rash—It is Fighting Ground at This Stage of the Game

(By Hendrick.)

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 10.—It is not stretching the truth to say that the presidential campaign of 1908 depends upon the vote of the state of New York. Just as other presidential campaigns for years back have centered around the Empire commonwealth. If you look back into this political history of the United States you will find that the state of New York, always possessing the largest individual electoral vote of any state in the union, has always been the thermometer by which presidential results have been read.

The situation today is only a little different from the situation in years previous. If Mr. Bryan can carry every state which Parker carried in 1904 and which Bryan himself carried in 1896 and 1900 he can, with the electoral vote of New York, be elected to the presidency.

N. Y. Politics of Vital Concern
Again, therefore, the political complexion of New York becomes of vital concern, as it has many and many a day in the campaign calendar of previous years. When it is remembered that but three presidents of the United States were elected without the electoral vote of New York in the electoral college it may be realized what the electoral vote of New York means. Buchanan in 1856, Grant in 1868, and Hayes in 1876, are the only candidates for president who ever received a commission without the electoral support of New York. Not only are these three the only nominees who ever succeeded without New York, but in addition there are many candidates whom New York has supported who would never have won had the New York vote been changed. For example, in 1844 Polk received 170 votes to Clay's 105 in the electoral college. New York's vote in the college was 36 for Polk. Had New York cast her 36 votes for Clay he would have been elected president. In 1848 Taylor received 163 votes to 127 for Cass and New York cast her 36 votes for Taylor. Had New York gone for Cass the Michiganander would have succeeded to the presidency.

A Striking Example
In 1884 probably the most striking example in history of the political power and prestige of New York appears. This was the memorable campaign between Cleveland and Blaine. In the electoral college Cleveland's vote was 219. Blaine's was 182. New York cast her vote for Cleveland but Cleveland carried New York by just 1,149 votes in a total far exceeding one million ballots. In other words, in 1884 the change of 600 votes out of more than a million in New York would have elected Blaine to the presidency instead of Cleveland, at the time of its first term.

With such precedents at hand it is no wonder that the political prophet comes first to New York for a study of political problems. In 1906 the republicans will tell you that Bryan cannot be elected even if he carries New York, because of the fact that in addition to New York he must hold every state which Parker had in 1904, and which he himself had in the two campaigns preceding. But, on the other hand, the democrat will tell you that Bryan is to have not only all the other vote, but Indiana, Illinois, Ohio, Oklahoma, possibly West Virginia and then sovereign New York in addition.

But New York has been quite safely republican for a number of years past. In 1904 New York turned in $59,533 ballots for Roosevelt as against 683,981 votes for Parker, and it must be remembered that Parker as well as Roosevelt was a native son of New York. In other words, when the interest aroused nationally by the presence of a native New Yorker on the ticket was equally divided between the republican and democratic ticket, New York chose the republican nominee by 175,000 majority. This year the republican ticket offers a native New Yorker for vice president, and it must not be forgotten that this will surely be a magnet to draw some votes.

What N. Y. Thinks of Bryan
What New York thinks of Mr. Bryan, however, is suggested to some degree by the vote it gave him when he ran the last two times. In 1900 New York gave McKinley 678,386. In 1896 New York gave Mr. McKinley other words, New York gave Mr. Bryan 125,000 more votes the second time he ran than it did the first. If this ratio of increased affection apparent from 1896 to 1900 could be maintained in the eight years from 1900 to 1908, Bryan would carry New York in 1908 by a comfortable majority.

But can Mr. Bryan hope for any such ratio?

Chandler a Strong Proposition
The first place to look for an answer is in the comparative strength of the opposing party candidates for governor. Gov. Charles E. Hughes on the republican side, and Lieut. Gov. Stuyvesant Chandler on the democratic side. It must not be forgotten that Bryan and Chandler this year have the united support of Tammany, Charles Murphy and Fingy Connors. It must not be forgotten that Gov. Hughes made many bitter enemies by standing sponsor for legislation which was marked by desperate unpopularity in many sections of the state. It must not be forgotten

Stomach Gases and Torpid Livers

Give Way Before the Peculiar Purifying Power of Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges.

A Trial Package Sent Free.
The foul gases of the stomach and the torpid action of the liver are easy victims for charcoal to overcome.

This great natural cleanser and absorbent will most certainly be refreshed by a system afflicted with gaseous or sluggish tendencies. Charcoal has long been known as a great absorbent of gas. A panful of charcoal will positively purify a room filled with foul odors and decay. Its absorbing ratio is one hundred times greater than its own volume.

The ancients gave charcoal for many human ills successfully. The North American Indians used it for snake bite, poison from eating wild herbs and cured what they called "stomach bad medicine" with it.

Willow charcoal seems to be the best product for human use, and no doubt the peculiar curative property of the willow is represented in a chemical quality in its charcoal.

Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges are pure willow and sweet honey blended by tremendous power and compression into a very palatable lozenge. Two or three lozenges eaten after meals will prevent the process of digestion from producing noxious gases. They will vivify a lazy liver and aid every organ which is most likely to be overcome through its contact with impurities. They cleanse the stomach and intestines, bring purity and sweetness out of fermentation and decay and aid digestion by allaying gas. They will aid you and your stomach. The beneficial effects are made evident after each meal when you use charcoal as Stuart prepares it. To allay gas at night they are excellent and one arises in the morning without that terrible nauseating bad breath which destroys appetite and renders one miserable.

All druggists sell Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges, price twenty-five cents, or send us your name and address and we will send you a trial package by mail free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 200 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

ten that Chanler comes from old New York stock with a pedigree which is linked with the best families the Empire state has ever produced. It must not be forgotten that Chanler was sufficiently popular to be elected lieutenant governor on the democratic ticket when the state went republican for Hughes. In other words, it must be admitted that the head of the democratic ticket in the Empire state is a strong proposition. But offsetting this condition are equally potential sources of republican strength. It cannot be denied that Governor Hughes is one of the largest men on the national horizon today. It cannot be denied he has given New York a straightforward, vigorous, strictly honest administration, which has popularized him to a wide degree as a champion of probity and good government. While they refused to go on with horse races in one end of New York until Governor Hughes had left the fair grounds, thereby demonstrating the anti-Hughes feeling growing out of the anti-betting law, nevertheless at the other end of the state they are acknowledging Hughes as a successful champion of the people's rights, and one demonstration balances the other.

Hughes Bigger Than Ever Before

Hughes is a bigger man today than ever before. He has President Roosevelt actively behind him—and he whom Teddy pushes, usually wins. It must be remembered that Hughes was nominated by the republican state convention absolutely against the wishes of the state's republican political powers, and his nomination must be taken as an answer to the demand of the populace. It is not improbable that a popular demand which can force a party nomination in the face of the disapproval of the party leaders may be also strong enough to force the election of such a candidate at the polls.

New York likes Bryan better than she ever liked him before. This must be admitted. On the contrary, however, New York has deep respect for Mr. Taft, a considerable affection for Mr. Sherman and much love for Secretary of State Elihu H. Root and his confederates, who are asking that New York support the republican ticket.

Republicans Have the Advantage

It would be unfair to prophesy, however, how New York will go next November. It is only safe to say that the republican ticket and the republican candidates have the advantage as the race opens, and unless unforeseen obstacles arise they ought to be able to hold the advantage to the end. In the meantime the country will again watch New York with eager eye, for in the light of the nation's experience it is almost accurately itself to say that as goes New York goes the election.

The influence behind self-control is usually somebody else's club.

NATURE WRAPPED IN AUTUMN HAZE

The La Crosse, Jap and a few other steamboats are the only ones now running. While there may be another month of pleasant weather and the launches will probably be kept in service until November, the river season is on the wane. Since the killing frost of September 29th the trees and bushes and all nature's foliage are rapidly assuming the rich subdued color tones of autumn, and the hills and dales are becoming more beautiful every day. Many of the harder wild wood blossoms are still showing themselves and geraniums and daisies are yet in bloom in the flower gardens. But as one looks up and down along the river front and especially across at the Minnesota bluffs he is vividly impressed that Nature is going to her long winter sleep soon after breathing a brief while in the full maturity of her beauty. The willows and elms in the bottoms are still as green as the first delicate shades of the prevailing color in springtime, but the barren hillsides are in a red drab, the oaks are dark green, the poplars white, and the sumac dull deep red, and up the river and down the bluffs keep themselves veiled in a purple haze.

THREE TIMES AS MUCH LIGHT AS OLD LAMPS

The New Tungsten Electric Light.

The light from the new tungsten incandescent lamps is pure white and is very closely allied to natural sunshine. It is the first artificial illuminant by which all colors can be distinguished. Color is an ocular conception. Without light there is no color. Red is red only because it has the quality of absorbing all other colors of the spectrum and reflecting the red rays. Artificial lights in which the yellow, violet, or red rays predominate cannot be used to match colors. Under the clear white light of the tungsten lamps violet is not blue; pink is not red; and blue is not black as when looked at under any other kind of artificial light. The most delicate tints show clear and true.

Tungsten, or Wolfram, is a metal discovered in 1781 and named from the Swedish "tung" (heavy) and "sten" (stone). It is not found native, but occurs as tungstate of iron, and as the calcium tungstate. The pure metal, which was produced only a few months ago in the electric furnace, is a bright steel gray, a hard and brittle crystalline substance. It is also used to increase the temper and tenacity of steel for hard tools. The fusing point of tungsten is higher than any other metal, which enables it to operate at the very high efficiency obtained in the tungsten lamp.

FOUND INNOCENT OF STATUTORY CRIME

RACINE, Wis., Oct. 9.—"Not guilty" was the verdict of the jury in the case against N. G. Eadus, charged with taking improper liberties with Agnes Anderson, 14 years old, feeble minded, who went to his place of business to buy groceries. Eadus contended that it was blackmail; that a sister of the girl came in his place and demanded $50 and he refused, and then his arrest followed. When the verdict was announced, after the jury had been out most of the night, the wife and three daughters went wild with joy as did the prisoner and for fifteen minutes they fell on one another's shoulders and wept and exchanged kisses.

TWO LUTHERAN CONFERENCES HERE

CENTRAL CONFERENCE AND WOMEN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY

PROGRAMS ARE NOW ISSUED

Northwest Synod Will Meet Oct. 27 to 29 and Women Will Hold Sessions During Same Period

The English Lutherans of the city will entertain two important conventions here this month, programs for which were issued by the Rev. J. J. Clemens today.

Most important perhaps is the tenth convention of the Central Conference of the English Evangelical Synod of the Northwest, Oct. 27, 28 and 29. The sessions will be held at the English Lutheran church of the Holy Trinity, West avenue and Ferry streets.

The other convention is the third annual of the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary society and will be held in conjunction with the other meeting.

The Program.

The program for the synod conference follows:

Tuesday, Oct. 27.

8:00 p. m.—Chief service with holy communion; sermon by the Rev. A. F. Elmquist, Ph. D., president of the central conference.

Wednesday, Oct. 28.

9:00 a. m.—Matin service. Report of the president. Notice of special business. Reports from the field.

Paper—"The Enigmas of Human Life, and Their Solution"—By the Rev. F. L. Gruber.

Discussion, opened by the Rev. Wm. F. Bacher.

Wednesday Afternoon.

2:00—Devotional exercises, conducted by the Rev. L. B. Deck. Paper—"The Ideal Pastor"—By the Rev. J. L. Murphy.

Discussion, opened by the Rev. O. S. Yerger.

Paper—"The Ideal Church Member"—By the Rev. Willis Beck.

Discussion, opened by the Rev. John Keehley.

Wednesday Evening.

8:00—Vesper service, conducted by the Rev. W. H. Gable. Fifteen-minute address. Subjects: "As a Member of the Church of the Reformation, What Can I Do, For Home Missions?"—By the Rev. A. J. Reichert. "For Inner Missions?"—By the Rev. G. H. Trabert, D. D.

"For Foreign Missions?"—By the Rev. Geo. H. Schnur.

Thursday, Oct. 29.

9:00 a. m.—Matin service, conducted by the Rev. J. J. Clemens. Business.

Paper—"Augsburg Confession, Art. X"—By the Rev. R. W. Yeany. Discussion, opened by the Rev. Mr. Ulrich.

"Study of the Gospel for the Twentieth Sunday After Trinity"—By the Rev. R. A. Helms.

Missionary Convention.

Following is the program for the missionary society convention of the ladies on the same dates:

Thursday Morning, Oct. 29.

Opening service—Pastor local. Hymn. Roll call and reception of delegates.

Enrollment of visitors. Minutes.

Address of welcome. Response.

Report of president. Report of executive committee.

Report of corresponding secretary. Report of treasurer.

Appointment of committees. Adjournment.

Thursday Afternoon.

Opening service. Roll call. Minutes.

Reading of letters from missionaries.

Do You Think For Yourself?

Or, do you open your mouth like a young bird and gulp down whatever food or medicine may be offered you?

Is there an intelligent thinking woman, in need of relief from weakness, nervousness, pain and suffering, then it means much to you that there is one tried and true, honest medicine, or rather composition, sold by druggists for the cure of woman's ills.

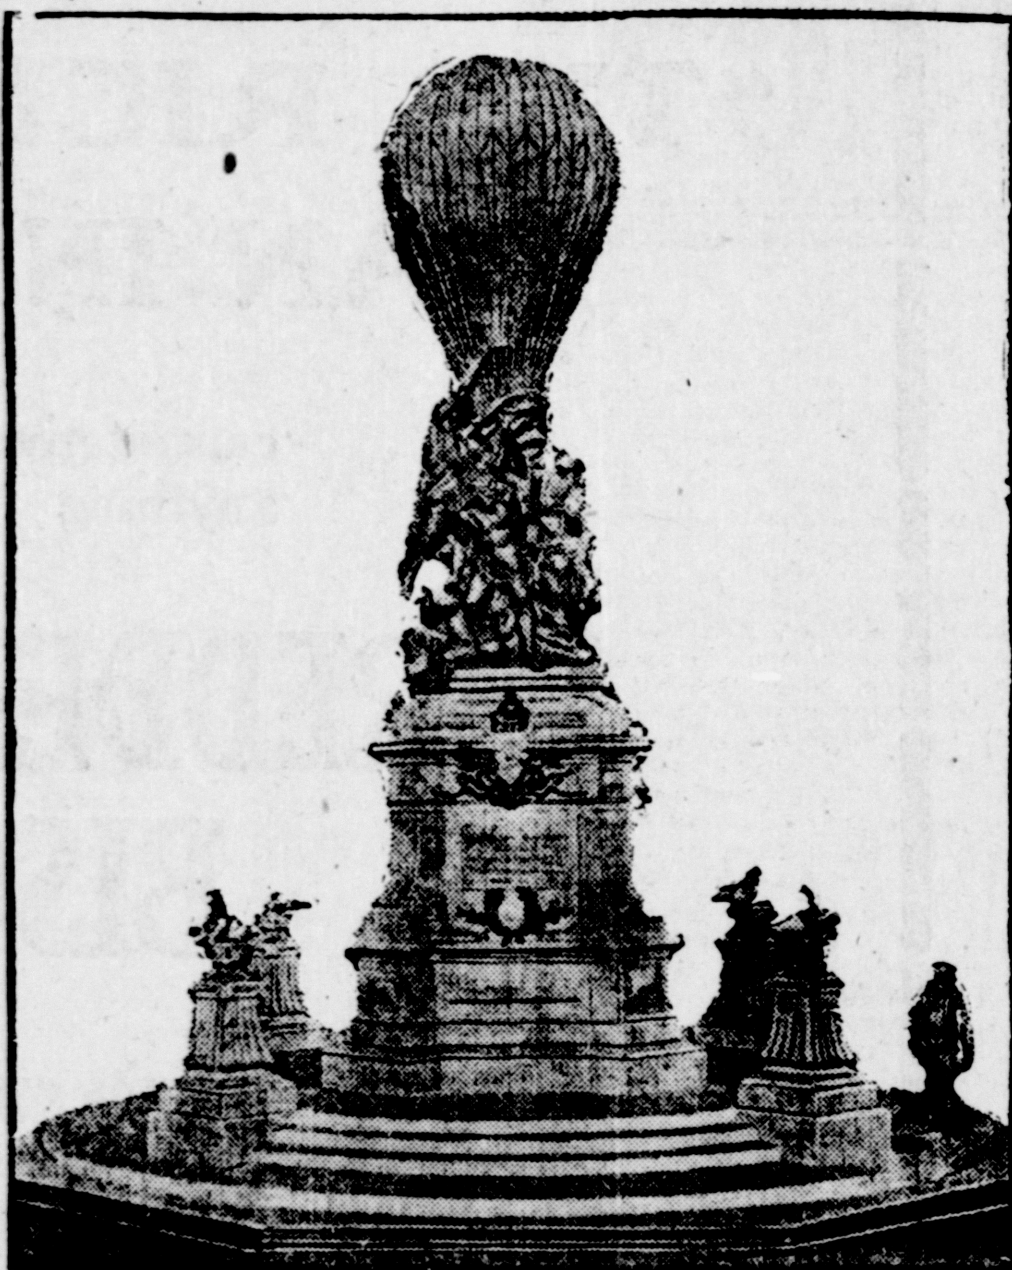

The makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, for the cure of weak, nervous, run-down, over-worked, debilitated, pain-racked women, knowing this medicine to be made up of ingredients, every one of which has the strongest possible endorsement of the leading and standard authorities of the several schools of practice, are perfectly willing, and in fact, are only too glad to print, as they do, the formula, or list of ingredients, of which it is composed, in plain English, on every bottle-wrapper.

The formula of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will bear the most critical examination of medical experts, for it contains no alcohol, narcotics, harmful, or habit-forming drugs, and no agent enters into it that is not highly recommended by the most advanced and leading medical teachers and authorities of their several schools of practice. These authorities recommend the ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the cure of exactly the same ailments for which this world-famed medicine is advised.

No other medicine for woman's ills has any such professional endorsement as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has received, in the unqualified recommendation of each of its several ingredients by scores of leading medical men of all the schools of practice. Is such an endorsement not worthy of your consideration?

A booklet of ingredients, with numerous authoritative professional endorsements by the leading medical authorities of this country, will be mailed free to any one sending name and address with request for same. Address Dr. L. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

MONUMENT BY BARTHOLDI TO BE ERECTED IN PARIS

PARIS, Oct. 10.—In this day of the airship and its application to warfare we are prone to forget the highly important part the balloon played in former wars. France has just officially taken cognizance of one incident in the Franco-German war and has voted sufficient funds to build a monument to the aeronauts of this war.

As a matter of fact the balloon played an important part in the downfall of the second empire. It was on October 7, 1870, that M. Gambetta, escaped from Paris by means of the balloon while it was being besieged by the German forces. Gambetta did this not so much to escape as to arouse popular enthusiasm over the province with his cry of "Fight to the bitter end." Immediately after his successful escape he was made minister of war and as such was a great factor in the complete overthrow of the second empire.

FRESHIES GET THEIR HAIRCUTS

APPLETON, Wis., Oct. 10.—Geo. Nixon, freshman at Lawrence university and whose home is at La Farge, Wis., was seized by a number of upper classmen and forced to submit to a haircut. Clippers that cut hair to the scalp were run in both directions across his head so as to make a matted cross and the bare spots on the cranium were then painted with iodine. Nixon appeared at chapel exercises this morning and upon request made a speech, his head still covered with iodine. Upset classmen declare that Nixon has been making himself obnoxious by way of "butting" into things that were not his business. It is rumored around Lawrence that unless last night's doings serve as a lesson to Nixon, he will be ducked in the Fox river.

STUDENTS GET SCHOLARSHIPS

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 10.—Mary E. Watkins of Edmund, a senior in the college of letters and science at the university of Wisconsin, has been awarded one of the two scholarships given by Judge J. M. Pereles of Milwaukee to the Wisconsin library school. Miss Watkins has been active in the university Young Women's Christian association and Self-Government association ranks.

The second scholarship has been awarded to Lena V. Brownell of Ypsilanti, Mich.

BAD PRAIRIE FIRE.

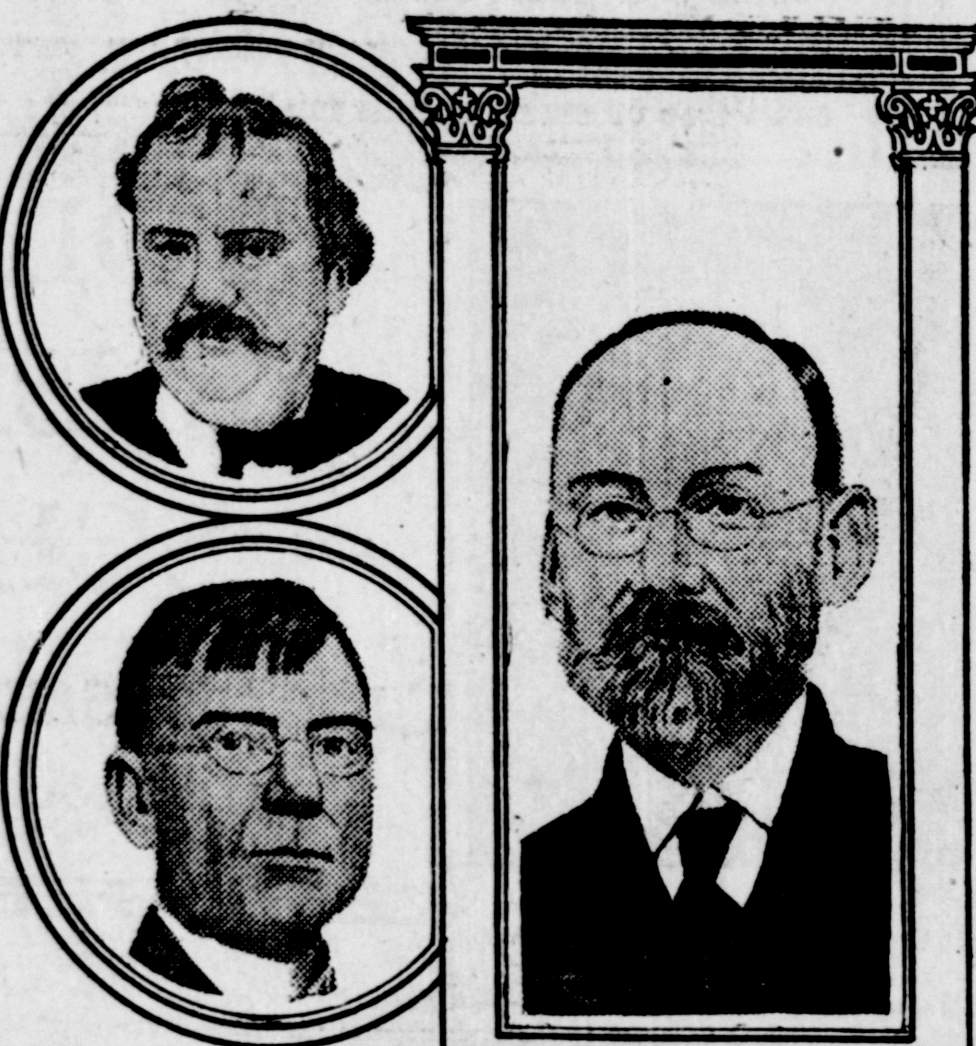

FERGUS FALLS, Minn., Oct. 10.—A prairie fire, set by a passing locomotive, swept over a wide stretch of prairie, fifteen miles west of here and turned over 200 tons of hay before its progress could be checked.

Another fire in the same neighborhood destroyed nearly three hundred tons a few days before. That section of the country raises a large amount of hay for baling and shipment, and the work of baling has just fairly begun. The loss will amount to about $3,000.

MAN BARKS LIKE DOG

KENOSHA, Wis., Oct. 10.—A peculiar case of insanity has developed at the county jail. Stephen Durick, a Hungarian, is the patient. Durick barks like a dog, and has attempted to bite several of the prisoners. Attending physicians declare that there is no sign of hydrophobia, and that he is simply laboring under a hallucination. It required five men to hold Durick before he was finally put into a padded cell.

ENGINE STOPS AT BAR

NEENAH, Wis., Oct. 10.—While a road engine was being driven from this city to Milwaukee the governor's belt broke and the engine ran away. The engineer, James Burke, was thrown off and before the machine could be brought under control it had plunged into a saloon, carrying the porch away. The front wheels were within two feet of the bar when the engine as stopped.

COLLAR BUTTON PROVES FATAL

RACINE, Wis., Oct. 10.—Letters received here from Erie, Pa., bring the news of the death of Bernard, the two-year-old son of the Rev. and Mrs. Franklin Gehr. He swallowed a gold collar button and choked to death. Mr. Gehr was the founder of the English Lutheran church of this city and recently went to Pennsylvania.

LAST FISH STORY

MANITOWOC, Wis., Oct. 10.—While backing into the lower slip this morning the big steel barge Dunham, loaded with coal, struck an immense carp in the river, severing the fish's head from the body, which weighed twenty-five pounds, being three feet long. It was the largest carp ever seen in these parts.

AGE MAKES NO DIFFERENCE

BELOIT, Wis., Oct. 10.—George R. Dyer, 50 years old, is a true dender making daily visits with his wagon to his customers in Beloit. He has conducted his little farm near Beloit many years.

Mr. Bunsby—If that young man's coming here to see you every day in the week, you had better give him a hint to come after supper. Miss Bunsby—I don't think it's necessary, pa. That's what he comes after.

Doctor—You are going at too rapid a pace. You are wearing yourself out. Patient—Well, I'd rather wear out than rust.

ROSEWATER, HE GETS ROASTED

VICTOR ROSEWATER

Head of the Publicity Department of the literary Bureau of the Republican Campaign

The dispenser of publicity in the republican campaign is the well known Omaha editor, Victor Rosewater. An incident which has recently brought him before the public was due to the slip of an editorial writer in his strongly partisan Omaha Bee. Mr. Rosewater was held up in ridicule by the mistake. The misinformed editorial writer, vigorously attacked a portion of the republican platform which he thought was an extract from a speech by Mr. Bryan and riddled it full of holes. Afterwards, to his chagrin and that of Mr. Rosewater it was found that the statement which he had so successfully disclaimed was a part of the republican platform. Bryan took this opportunity to vigorously rebuke the editor.

Gund's Peerless Beer

is particularly commended to athletes. It contains absolutely nothing but the rich living juices of barley fields and fragrant hop gardens; and is one of the most wholesome and nourishing beverages in the world. The small quantity of alcohol in it (3 1/2%) is just enough to gently stimulate the digestion.

Peerless won the gold medal at the St. Louis World's Fair; also highest award at the Paris Exposition, 1900.

For daily home use it is unsurpassed. Try a case delivered. Sold at all good hotels, etc.

Weak Heart Action

There are certain nerves that control the action of the heart. When they become weak, the heart action is impaired. Short breath, pain around heart, choking sensation, palpitation, fluttering, feeble or rapid pulse, and other distressing symptoms follow. Dr. Miles Heart Cure is a medicine especially adapted to the needs of these nerves and the muscular structure of the heart itself. It is a strengthening tonic that brings speedy relief. Try it.

"For years I suffered with what I thought was stomach trouble, when the doctors told me I had heart trouble. I had tried many remedies, when the Dr. Miles' Heart Cure came into my hands, and I concluded to try Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. I have taken three bottles, and now I am not suffering at all. I am cured and this medicine did it. I write this in the hope that it will attract the attention of others who suffer as I did."

INDIAN MAIDEN ROBBED AN OFFICER

RHINELANDER, Wis., Oct. 10.—A dusky Indian maiden, Agnes Buckskin by name, arrived here in charge of Undersheriff Clayton Vaughan from the Indian settlement at Sugar Camp upon complaint of dusky men of her tribe, who charged her with having stolen watches, money and other personal belongings from an Indian policeman. From reports it would appear that two Indian "coppers" came here from the Flambeau reservation, on their return home going by way of Sugar Camp, where, it is alleged, restrain from official duty was experienced and the opportunity to celebrate. After the first stage of exuberance had passed, one of the dusky minions of the law discovered this his handcuffs were missing, also sundry other articles, including some money and valuables. Suspicion pointed to Agnes Buckskin, one of the party. Upon complaint being made, the maiden was taken in custody and is now confined in the Oneida county jail awaiting a hearing before the court.

FAMILY HAS A FINE ROW

MACINE, Wis., Oct. 10.—Four men were injured in a north side stabbing affray. Albert Jameson is cut across the face, Peter Jameson, his father, has a cut head. Rudolph Steinke suffers with a cut eye, and Arthur Steinke has his under lip cut open. The two Jamesons were arrested and the case will be heard on October 26. All of the parties are related and the fight commenced over family troubles.

The Fight for Humanity

The great modern wars are fights for humanity. The old style war brought sorrow, and evil and death. The warfare of today differs from the old, because it is carried on for the good of the millions, and its success means happiness, prosperity, and life.

The wonderful advances made in the medical science in the last few years; the boldness with which men of science are attacking disease; their faith in ultimate triumph and the results they accomplish, have removed all doubt that scientific methods, properly applied, can overcome the ills from which mankind has suffered through ignorance and carelessness for ages.

The grave error made by many persons in ill health is in selecting the wrong method when seeking relief. Then, when they feel helpless and despair of ever getting well, they wonder why they are afflicted. The physician who is conscientious, well equipped with a careful, scientific training, together with experience, has perfected a method of treatment which precludes all possibility of failure in the average case.

A physician who has won the respect of our people by his unerring judgment in selecting the methods of treatment which have brought positive and permanent relief to so many of our friends and neighbors, is Dr. L. M. Turbin, the specialist from Chicago, who spends one day each month in our city.

Dr. Turbin is qualified to successfully treat any one afflicted with chronic forms of disease and has so thoroughly demonstrated his ability to those living in this vicinity, that they urge their friends to see him when he makes his regular visits here.

Those persons who know they are in need of medical treatment and will fully neglect making an effort to have disease eradicated, bring to themselves additional suffering, unhappiness and danger of other complications.

In his battle with disease, Dr. Turbin gives each and every case the same painstaking care, skillful treatment, and careful attention which flays disease, and brings permanent relief to the patient.

Dr. Turbin will visit La Crosse Wednesday, Oct. 14th, at which time he will be at Hotel La Crosse.

COL. MORGAN JOINS THE RETIRED LIST

HAS BEEN TRANSFERRED TO THE GENERAL STAFF

TO ADVANCE GRUEZMECHER

Adj. General Boardman Promotes Lieutenant Colonel to Head of Second Regiment

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 10.—Adj. Gen. C. R. Boardman issued orders announcing the retirement of Col. Nathan E. Morgan of Appleton from command of the Second regiment of the Wisconsin national guards, he having reached the age for retirement, and his transfer to the general staff as aide to the commander in chief. Lieut. Col. Frank W. Gruetzmacher is promoted to colonel and placed in command of the regiment and Maj. Wallace P. Greene of Marinette made lieutenant colonel. Col. Gruetzmacher is asked to recommend some one for appointment to the vacant majorship.

Regarding the transfer of Col. Morgan the orders say:

"Col. Morgan has a long and honorable service in the Wisconsin national guard, entering the service on July 16, 1883, having been commissioned as captain Co. G, Second infantry, January 7, 1895, and was discharged from the service of the Wisconsin national guard May 12, 1898, to enter the United States volunteer service. After the muster out from the volunteer service and on the reorganization of the Second infantry, Wisconsin national guards, he was commissioned colonel with rank from June 11, 1899, and placed in command of the Second infantry, Wisconsin national guard.

"In the volunteer service during the war with Spain he was commissioned as major, Second regiment of Wisconsin volunteer infantry, with rank from May 12, 1898, and was mustered out Nov. 15, 1898."

ON WAY TO JAIL PLEADS FOR FATHER

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 10.—Facing a term of five years in the Green Bay reformatory, thoughts of Frank Kowski, 21 years old, were not of himself, but of his aged father, whose sole support he has been for years.

When Judge Brazee in municipal court found Kowski guilty of assaulting 9-year-old Angeline Bielinski, and imposed the sentence of five years, the youth wept bitterly.

Winding his way among attorneys and court attaches, Kowski reached Judge Brazee's desk and there made a tearful appeal for his father.

"It's not for myself, Judge," he said between sobs. "I may be guilty, and I am willing to take the consequences of my act. But ever since I was 6 years old my father has been dependent on me for food and lodging, and I always have taken care of him."

"We have lived together, and what I gave him was all he had in the world. If I go to prison now, the chances are that I never will see him again. He is penniless and has no friend or relative to whom he can look for support. My only request, Judge, is that you see that he gets a warm shelter and enough to eat."

Kowski had to be removed from the court room by deputies. Judge Brazee signified his intention of seeing that Kowski's father be given county aid.

"YEGGMEN" MAY BE AT STEVENS POINT

POLICE THRE SUSPECT TRAMP WHO FLASHES A "ROLL"

BROKE THREE WEEKS AGO

But When Picked up by Authorities
He Has Good Supply of Cash
taken from Bank

STEVENS POINT, Wis., Oct. 10.—In the arrest of a tramp known as Joe Miller, Stevens Point authorities believe they have captured one of the men responsible for the robbery of the Ladysmith bank. Miller was arrested as he alighted from a box car of a southbound freight train on the Wisconsin Central road.

In nearly every one of a dozen pockets were found sums of money ranging from a few dollars up to a hundred or more. When the "pile" was counted it reached the total of $387.55, of which $255 was in paper money, $18 in silver quarters, $12 in 50 cent pieces, $86 in silver dollars, $14.70 in dimes and $1.65 in nickels.

Miller, who is apparently about 45 years of age and a man of stalwart frame, will be held on the charge of carrying a concealed weapon, and in the interim his record will be looked up.

He and a couple of other hoboes visited Stevens Point about three weeks ago, spending one night in a barn at the southeast corner of town. At that time Miller wore a ragged and dirty suit of clothes and was strictly minus in the matter of finances.

BATTERY RETURNS TO FT. SHERIDAN

SPARTA, Wis., Oct. 10.—The batteries of mountain artillery that have been encamped on the artillery range here for the last five weeks returned overland to Fort Sheridan, Ill., which they expect to reach about Oct. 15. Besides the regular wagon train there were 250 pack mules in the column. The artillery men packed the mountains guns on their backs many times daily for a month and this pack train has been driven up and down the numerous ranges of hills, always led by a "bell" mule, which those unbroken are taught to follow. Maj. T. Bentley Mott, in command, expressed himself highly pleased with the target practice and the grounds which afford such an opportunity for a varied artillery fire, including both direct and indirect practice.

CHURCH EXTENSION SOUGHT

NEENAH, Wis., Oct. 10.—The annual conference of the Wisconsin district, United Danish Lutheran church of America, opened here for a three days' session. The principal feature of the business sessions is the discussion of missions. To strengthen the churches now in the conference and to extend the membership to parts of the state is the effort that is made by all conference members. This district is one of the largest of the synod, comprising seventeen pastors, twenty-one congregations and four mission stations.

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF

KILBOURN—Nat Wetzel who last summer declared the present was his last season at the Dells, before leaving for Llano, Tex., where he will conduct a winter hotel, said he would return and continue the business if the railroads would run excursions. A new steel steamer landing is being built with an eased grade to reach the water.

MANITOWOC—Reports are current in this city that the Northwestern intends to make Two Rivers a division point when the extension northward is built. The road will establish additional yards at Calumet, south of this city.

NEW LONDON.—Outstanding accounts of the New London county fair are being paid. It is probable that the fair will be discontinued.

NEW LONDON.—Herbert Ritzer, serving a thirty day sentence for carrying concealed weapons, escaped from the city lockup and taking a wheel found conveniently near the sidewalk, rode away.

PORTAGE—The Northwestern road will erect a new depot at Devils Lake.

SHEBOYGAN—Night schools have opened in almost every public school of the city, the attendance being much larger than in former seasons.

WAUSAU—Joseph Lass, who bit Estella Belensky, was sentenced to a ninety days term in the county jail.

MADISON—Miss Adela Rankin, a graduate of the state university, has been appointed to fill the temporary vacancy created in the oratorical department by the serious illness of Prof. A. H. Johnstone.

HILBERT JUNCTION—Breaking open the back door of the millinery store of Mrs. Thomas DeLane, burglars stole over $150 worth of plumes and fancy trimmings.

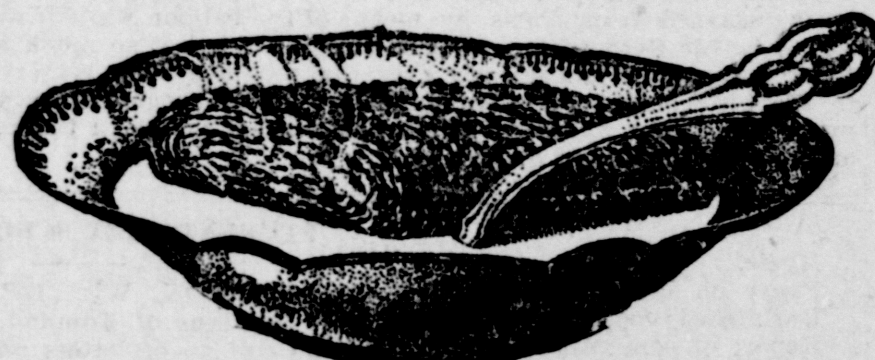

CHIPPewa FALLS—Once wealthy, Samuel Olson, a pioneer resident of this county, is now an inmate of a Soldiers' home near San Francisco and every evidence of his former wealth is gone. Three years ago he went west after selling all his property and there was married to a widow from which time his downpath to poverty dates.

BETTER LATE THAN NEVER

Our Special Term Began
Monday, Oct. 5th.

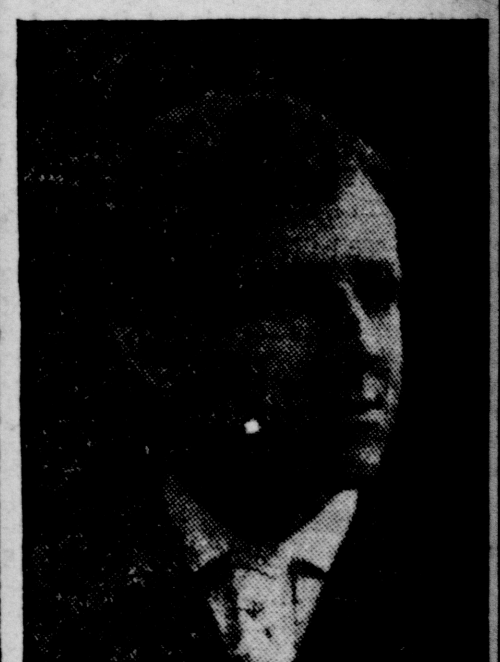

The work is now in the formative stage, and students entering next week are not too late to receive all the advantages of the initial starters. It is a happy paradox that if you start now you're a week late, but you're on time. We provide thorough courses in all business subjects. We positively cannot fill the demand for our graduates. The fact that we have placed more than four hundred students in positions the past year in spite of business depression is sufficient proof of the demand for FIRST CLASS office assistants. In this day and age of fierce competition you cannot make a success without a thorough preparation. A little preparation now means your future success. You simply can't fail if you follow our instructions and take advantage of the assistance we render every graduate. Education is one proposition where you can't lose or make serious mistakes.

BOILER GIVES OUT IN SCHOOL BLDG.

What might have been a more serious accident happened this morning at the old "Second Ward" school building, corner of Fourth and King streets, which is being used temporarily as the public library, when the boiler in the heating plant gave out. According to the story given out the boiler was "over fired" and the inside became red hot. The steam and water was blown out through the safety valve and portions of the boiler were cracked by the intense heat.

Fortunately no one was in the boiler room when the accident took place, otherwise there would undoubtedly have been a casualty.

Plumbers are busy today repairing the damage and the plant will be in working order soon.

TIGERS HOPE THAT LUCK WILL CHANGE

Overall, Brown, Reulbach and Pfeister, their scintillating fielders, and rugged swatsmen combined with their one-sided record over the Tigers last season, when they took the series in straight games, following an opening tie, are the favored in the betting. There is, however, a general feeling that the Tigers will perform much more consistently and with something resembling their natural gait than they did last season. The "big four," McIntyre, Crawford, Cobb and Rossman, even as great as Detroit's traditional "big four" of a score of years ago, will not be stopped this season as were they last. Then gratifying to the Detroit fan is the fact that Killian has fairly glittered in his last two tryouts and shows signs of surpassing the form which made him such a potent factor in the winning of the Tigers in 1907.

The Two Teams Compared
Placing man against man, the members of the two clubs to fight in the world's series so far as ability is concerned, would be generally conceded to run about as follows: Kling and Moran far overshadow Schmidt and Thomas in the catching department. In fact last season it was Kling's wonderful whip which blocked the daring Tigers on the bases at every turn, and put their vaunted offensive to route. Chance has the shade on Rossman at the first bag because of his experience and knowledge of the game. Rossman, however, has always been a great man in a pinch for Detroit, and last season hit marvelously in the world's series.

At second base Evers is great, but so is Schaefer. Both of these men field resplendently and can be counted on to be consistent. Evers perhaps would be voted the more polished player, but Schaefer is by all means as timely. Tinker and Steinfeldt at short and third respectively loom bigger than O'Leary and Coughlin, immeasurably bigger, it might be said. Tinker is clouting the ball like a demon, and fielding well, while Steinfeldt has been a bright luminary in past world's series in which it has been his fortune to perform.

Detroit Strong in Outfield
It is the comparison of the outfield that Detroit may boast. Not under the blue sky is there a garden trio which can surpass or even cope in ability with the darting Cobb, the glimmering Crawford and the consistent McIntyre. In a class of their own making are these three men and Schulte, Sheckard or Hofman or Slagle, although better than the ordinary, come far from equalling them.

Cubs Better in the Box
Then there is the pitching department. Collectively, Chicago again excels, but it must be remembered that Detroit has Donovan, and according to a Detroitter, while there's Donovan there's hope. This smiling prodigy will of course be counted on as the main machinery to apply the brakes to the Cubs. Pity 'tis that a twirler can't work every day.

Reulbach, Overall, Brown and Pfeister are perhaps as great a twirling quartet as ever signed under one flag in the history of modern baseball. The Cubs will have limitably the better of it in the box.

Odds Against Detroit
Thus it can be said that in simon pure ability or so far as that sometimes mythical, substance "form" is concerned the Cubs are great, and have the edge. But consummate daring, and luck have oftentimes tripped and blocked apparent "pips," and don't forget for an instant that through and through the Detroit club are fighters, fighters to the last minute. Nevertheless, the odds are against them. It will be a great culmination to an unequalled season, this world's series which we are about to behold.

Some 23 years ago the first world's series was played when the St. Louis Browns, winners of the association honors, defeated the Chicagoes, and again the following year duplicated their then unheard of feat. In 1887 Detroit got the baseball laurels supreme. It was during the "big four" regime.

Then followed series after series, gradually the play becoming more popular until the exposition of the American association and finally in 1900 the re-organization of it in the name of the American league. The Boston American league club was twice winner of the honors. New York Giants won it once, defeating the Philadelphia Athletics in 1905. In 1906 the White Sox defeated the Cubs in that memorable series. Last season Detroit fell before the prowess of Chance's men.

Pilots of the pennant winners who guide their clubs through a nerve-racking season attending to their players' every want lay back and rest during the world's series, for every detail is taken from out of their hands during the world's series. Four years ago after the failure of New York and Boston to meet in a world's series frey baseball's national commission, that all powerful board consisting of Garry Herrmann, Harry Pulliam and Ban Johnson, handed out an edict which stated that they and they alone would attend to the driving of the world's play.

And the plan has been eminently satisfactory, disposing at once of the various rumors and arguments of "foul play" from player and spectator, which was so wont to arise in series gone by. Following immediately the action of the commission in taking over the series this annual play became immensely more popular.

Division of Gate Money.
The division of the gate money of the world's series is as follows:

Ten per cent of all the receipts go to the national commission for expenses. Last season in the series between Detroit and Chicago the amount was more than $10,000.

Of the 90 per cent remaining—in the first four games—the players re-

Piano buyers have been deceived LONG ENOUGH, and we hope will recognize our desire to give them a square deal at fair, honest prices. All we ask IS INVESTIGATION.

Contest Piano Sales

We are striving to eliminate fakery from the piano business. We want it to remain a legitimate and honorable enterprise. So we offer today a few suggestions for the education of piano buyers.

We might conduct a contest as the result of which a lot of you people who want pianos would be awarded "certificates" entitling you to say $50 or $75 or $100, you to have the right to apply that sum on the purchase price of one of our pianos.

Then we might put the price of the piano you selected up $50 or $75 or $100, or more, above its regular retail market price, and thus get the full market price, or more, from you, perhaps in addition to this foisting an inferior instrument upon you.

We might do those things, but WE DON'T. If we did we would "do" you. If you take part in a "piano contest," you may clip the coupons, but the piano man gets the dividends.

A good piano is a valuable and desirable article, merchantable by legitimate methods. Keep out of "contests" unless you want to pay for a piano and get a lemon.

KING STRUCK BY WORK ELEVATOR

"BIKE MAN" HURT AT NEW Y. M. C. A. BUILDING

WAS RENDERED SENSELESS

Was Talking to Contractor When Elevator Struck Him Upon Head; Injury Not Serious

While standing inside of the new Main streets yesterday morning, L. W. King, the well known bicycle man, was struck on the head by a descending elevator and rendered unconscious. To the fact that he fell backwards, away from the shaft instead of forwards and into it, he perhaps owes his life.

Mr. King was standing on the ground level talking to C. W. Noble, the contractor, who was in the basement. "Look out for your feet," said Mr. Noble, he noticed that Mr. King's foot was protruding into the shaft as one of the elevators started downwards. Mr. King drew back his foot and in so doing bent slightly forward with the result of the elevator striking him on top of the head. He toppled over unconscious but soon revived. An examination showed a cut in the back of the head but other than this he was uninjured.

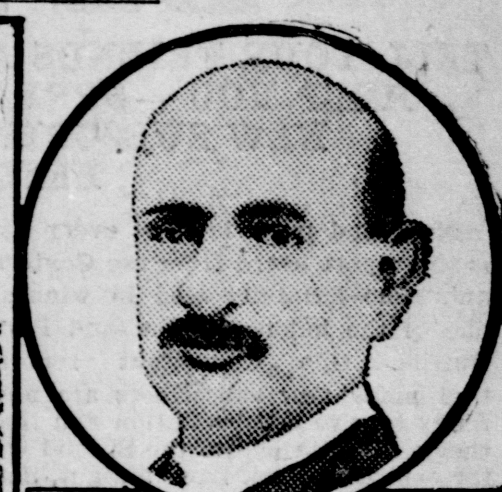

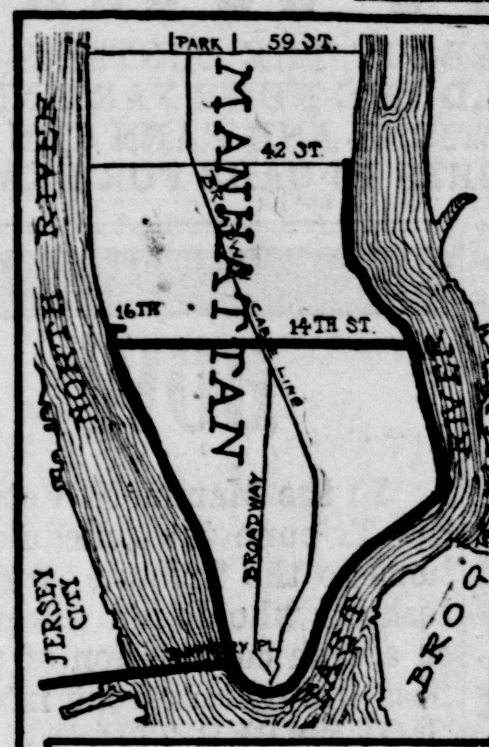

THOMAS BUYS OUT PARTNER

Announcement was made today that H. C. Thomas had purchased Mr. Ed Ender's portion in the firm of Thomas & Ender's Sheet Metal Works, 117 North Third street, and hereafter the plant will run under the management of Mr. Thomas. All business under the firm name of Thomas & Ender will be transacted with Mr. Thomas.

As yet Mr. Ender has made no statement as to what he will do but he will probably remain in the city.

When two men are standing on the street and a pretty woman goes by, one of the men is pretty apt to say to the other: "What are you looking at?"

NEW YORK PLANS GREATEST UNDERGROUND RAILWAY

Upper right, Henry J. Pierce. Lower right, William J. Wilgus. Map shows $100,000,000 freight tunnel proposed around Manhattan.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—The greatest transportation project ever proposed in tangible form by a private corporation is the new through track freight tunnel around Manhattan. Henry J. Pierce and William J. Wilgus are the men back of the enterprise.

The stupendous engineering problems that presented themselves to McAdoo in building the passenger subway will fade into nothing when compared with those that will have to be met by the promoters of the present gigantic scheme. The man who will have the major part of this work to do is William J. Wilgus, whose engineering ability is indispensable to the successful execution of the big scheme.

Briefly, the men behind the subway freight line movement plan to take off the streets of New York much of the traffic in carrying merchandise from point to point. The subway will be exclusively for freight and it will pass through or beneath the big merchandise shipping buildings of Manhattan. Refuse also will be disposed of by way of the freight subway.

BE A WINNER!

TELL YOUR FRIENDS ABOUT THE CONTEST—TELL THEM THEY CAN HELP YOU—SPREAD THE NEWS FAR AND WIDE—WORK FOR NEW SUBSCRIPTIONS AND EARN TEN PER CENT OF YOUR EFFORTS IN CASH FOR EXMAS MONEY

More and more interest every day is the report heard from the Contestants who are interested in winning one of the handsome Shetland Pony Outfits. One Contestant reports that many new subscribers are now ready to give a subscription and that they will be in before the Special Offer expires a week from tonight, Saturday, Oct. 17th.

The Tribune Contest is considered the largest newspaper undertaking ever conducted in La Crosse and by far the largest amount of money has been expended to make the Contestants satisfied with their prizes. The one aim of the Tribune is to please and with this thought in view the expensive Tony Shetland Pony Outfits have been purchased for the occasion. Many happy hours will be spent with these pets and all that is necessary to own one of them is to work among your friends and acquaintances and get subscriptions to the Tribune.

Now is the time to bring in the subscriptions that you have been holding in reserve. The special offer and THE BEST OFFER will close one week from tonight and then the votes will go back to the old table of votes. The wise ones will bring in their subscriptions now and get the special ballots and the extra votes. The special ballots do not have to be deposited now but can be placed for credit in the ballot box at any time desired.

Warning.
Do not be late at the finish. Don't delay bringing in your subscriptions now and get the extra votes. Again we state that the best and biggest offer of the Contest is now in force and to bring in subscriptions after the offer expires will only mean disappointment. Bring your subscriptions into the office this week and get the ballots. You know you will be sure of them and they can be deposited at any time.

Tell Your Friends.
Tell your friends about the Tribune Contest. Show them how they can help you and you will be surprised at the results. Do it today. Do not delay. Own a Pony of your own. A few hours' work a day will do it.

HOW TO VOTE

In the Mammoth Voting Contest being conducted by the Tribune the schedule of votes for paid subscriptions to the Tribune is given below. Remember, contestants who do not win prizes in this contest, will be given a cash commission of ten per cent on all NEW business brought or sent into the office. Contest closes NOVEMBER 7TH.

WANTED—Butcher. A. Hanf, 224 West Ave. No.

WANTED—The Navy needs many capable men who will render faithful service—you may be one. Go to the Navy Recruiting Office and talk it over any way. This is a chance to serve your country with honor, at the same time to earn good money and improve your condition, physically and mentally. It costs nothing to be examined, whether you decide to enlist or not. No better recommendation could be obtained than an Honorable Discharge after four years' faithful service in the Navy. Four years in the Navy is an education. You will be greatly benefited by the physical training, the fresh air life, and the wholesome food. Your mind will be broadened by the many opportunities for travel. You will form habits of regularity and self-reliance, which will fit you for the duties of civil life, or for advancement in the Navy. Many opportunities are offered for learning a trade. The Navy's Electrical School, Artificer School, Gunners School, and School for the Hospital Corps are equal to any manual training schools in the country—and you pay continues while you are under instruction. The pay is good and the chances to advance excellent. If you have ambition to better your condition go to the Navy Recruiting Station at Post Office Building, Minneapolis, Minn., or address Bureau of Navigation, Navy Department, Washington, D. C.

WALTER WELLMAN WARNS REPUBLICAN MANAGERS

TALKS WITH UNION LEADERS

Inquiry Prompted by President Roosevelt's Recent Conference With Labor Chiefs

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—Walter Wellman, republican journalist and candid advisor of the Taft campaign managers, today sounds still another alarm in the G. O. P. camp. Writing from Cleveland, O., he says:

"What are the railroad men going to do at the polls this year? Is it true that they are largely against Taft and for Bryan? And if so, in what proportion? Does their latitudinarianism indicate revolution? These interesting questions I have asked of men in this city who are in position to know something of the facts, because of two of the largest and most influential railroad employees' organizations in the country, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, have their general offices in this city.

"These queries were suggested by action of President Roosevelt last week in holding an arranged conference at the White House with the chiefs of these brotherhoods and other railroad employees' organizations, presumably in the hope of being able to do something through his personal influence with those chiefs and through their influence in their organizations to help the cause of Taft. What took place at the White house I do not pretend to say. But I do feel sure after considerable inquiry, that President Roosevelt put his finger on one of the chief sources of danger to the republican ticket, and equally sure that his intervention, favorably received and powerful as it is, is nevertheless unlikely to lead to any practical results.

"Without any desire to create unnecessary alarm, or to overstate the seriousness of the situation, I nevertheless feel it my duty to warn the managers of the republican campaign that unless they can find some way to second President Roosevelt's efforts with effective means of counteracting the present tendency among railway employees they must be prepared to suffer losses among this class of voters.

"There are about a million and a half of railway employees in this country. One hundred and sixty-three thousand of them are members of the two organizations spoken of above, and the chiefs of both of these organizations were in conference with President Roosevelt last week. Both of them told the president in some detail what he already knew in a general way, that the members of their organizations are showing a strong tendency to give their votes to Bryan. This tendency is not so strong among the engineers as it is among the trainmen, and, according to the views of the brotherhood officials, it is not as strong among the trainmen as it is in other labor organizations. But it is strong enough in both of the brotherhoods named to constitute a serious aspect of the campaign, from the republican viewpoint, serious enough, at any rate, to warrant the friendly and energetic intervention of the president.

"In the gossip of the hour there come many stories of switch shanties and cabooses decorated with Bryan pictures, and of whole lines of railroad along which not a Taft picture can be found displayed by an employee of the road. Some of these stories are doubtless exaggerations. But making allowances for the exaggerations and for the tendency of man to form sweeping conclusions from a limited number of instances, there nevertheless appears to be enough fire behind the smoke to justify the turning in of a general alarm at republican national headquarters.

Virtue may be its own reward, but it is not regarded as good collateral under the prevailing banking system.

OLD GERONIMO IN HIS WAR PAINT

LAWTON, Okla., Oct. 9.—Although old Geronimo is fast failing in years caused by the awful hardships he experienced during the days that he held the west and southwest in terror prior to 1886, he can still lariat a steer with great accuracy. He is now busily engaged, with many of the Apache bucks, roping the young calves of the Apache cattle and assisting in the branding of several thousand yearlings.

VIROQUA GIRL LAID TO REST

VIROQUA, Wis., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—The body of Miss Sophie Loverud was brought to this city Thursday evening from Minnesota.

Some three weeks ago Miss Loverud went west to teach school, and after teaching a week was taken sick with tuberculosis of the brain. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Knut Loverud, west of the city. Funeral services were held from the house Saturday morning with interment in the Viroqua cemetery.

MAD HORSES KILL MAN AND GIRL

TWO LOSE LIVES WHEN HORSES GO WILD

TEAMSTER AND YOUNG GIRL

One is Thrown From Riding Horse While Teamster Lands on Pavement from Lurching Rig

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 10.—Miss Carella Roosen died from injuries which she suffered when she was thrown from a spirited horse she was riding.

She was only 17 years old and lived at 2401 Humboldt avenue, Minneapolis. The horse was Texas Pinto and became frightened at the corner of Twenty-fifth and Portland, and threw his rider heavily to the pavement. When she was examined at the Northwestern hospital it was found that her skull was fractured and that there were other serious injuries.

Edward C. Kelly, a teamster, was instantly killed in a runaway accident which occurred on Penn avenue north, Minneapolis.

He was dashed from his team and met such injuries that death followed at once.

Mr. Bryan Asks if Roosevelt Would Have Dared Tell the People Where Funds Came From

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 10.—Mr. Bryan's Commoner prints an editorial dealing with campaign contributions, giving figures and taunting President Roosevelt and Mr. Taft for their attitude. The Commoner says: "Prior to election day in 1904, democrats learned that representatives of the special interests were providing the republican party with campaign funds. Mr. Roosevelt hotly denied the accusation, denouncing the democrat who made it as a liar."

"Later it developed that E. H. Harriman had collected $260,000. This money came from Standard Oil officials and others, the detailed contributions being as follows: Edward H. Harriman, $30,000; H. McK. Twombly, (representing Vanderbilts), 25,000; Chauncey M. Depew (personal), 25,000."

"Seven friends" of Senator Depew, ($5,000 each), 35,000
Sent to Mr. Harriman in smaller donations, 20,000

Total, $260,000
"Does anyone believe that Mr. Roosevelt would have dared tell the people, prior to election day, that these men had contributed $260,000 to his campaign fund?"

"But Mr. Roosevelt insists that the people must trust the republican managers and that the source of the republican party's campaign fund will not be revealed until after the election."

TWO LITTLE GIRLS TO DECIDE FATES

DALLAS, S. D., Oct. 10.—The white man and civilization are taking one more step toward the setting sun, making one more invasion of that vast frontier included in the Louisiana purchase, portions of which have to this day resisted all efforts toward the encroachment of modernization.

At Dallas, mushroom town that has sprung up on the raw prairie overnight, as it were, the white man is marking time, knocking at the door, during two brief weeks, and on Monday morning, Oct. 19, two little 7 year old girls dressed in blue, will begin drawing envelopes from a heap to indicate to which individual will be given first opportunity to settle upon his choice of the 800,000 fertile acres of Tripp county lands that are being thrown open.

Up to date this has been probably the most orderly and peaceful land rush that Uncle Sam ever pulled off. Such good order has prevailed as to remind the casual onlooker of a Sunday school picnic or, at most, a county fair. Although fourteen policemen are on duty here in Dallas, headed by the Pinkerton man who had charge of the Jamestown exposition, there has not yet been a single instance of disturbing the peace, and the little jail has stood unoccupied and lonely.

FINDS UNKNOWN'S BODY IN VACANT LOT

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 10.—The body of an unknown man about 60 years of age and apparently a laborer, was found in a vacant lot one mile north of Oakland cemetery, near Maryland and Cortland streets, by several boys returning from school. A bottle labeled carbolic acid that had been purchased in a Seventh street department store was found near the body, and a note, written on a scrap of wrapping paper, indicated that the man committed suicide. Coroner Arthur W. Miller went out to the scene and had the remains removed to the county morgue. An effort will be made by Dr. A. W. Miller to identify the man.

STATE BROTHERHOOD FORMED BY CHURCH

FAIRBAULT, Minn., Oct. 10.—The General Congregational association completed the fifty-third annual meeting here. The state brotherhood was organized and will be known as the Congregational Brotherhood of Minnesota. The officers chosen of this newly organized society are: President, S. T. Johnson of St. Paul; vice presidents, A. A. Miller of Crookston and C. C. Decker of Minneapolis; secretary, Rev. C. H. Curtis of St. Paul, and treasurer, W. A. Geery of St. Paul.

GETS DAMAGES FOR LIBEL: ONE CENT

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 10.—A verdict of 1 cent was awarded by a district court jury to Sarah E. Smith against her former roomer, Nora Colgate, in comprehension for reputation marred by slander.

The Smith woman lets lodgings on Smith avenue. The Colgate woman, formerly one of the lodgers, complained, as was alleged, and as the jury found, that her watch had been stolen by the landlady, which alleation was false. But under the circumstances as proved the slander was not held to have been circulated so as to work much harm.

Judge Hallam presided at the trial.

GERMAN METHODISTS HOLD A CONFERENCE

FAIRFAX, Minn., Oct. 10.—The twenty-second annual session of the Northern German conference of the Methodist church opened in Fairfax Wednesday evening with the conference sermon delivered in German by Prof. F. W. Finkbe, A. M., dean of the Charles City, Iowa, college. The sermon was followed by an informal reception to Bishop Nuelson and the clergy. Ex-Senator A. V. Riecke welcomed the guests to the village on behalf of the local church and the village, and Dr. C. F. Blume, district superintendent, on behalf of the Southern Minnesota district. Bishop Nuelson responded on behalf of the guests, in the German language.
